

Railroads, Unions Meeting Today at Bargaining Table

Negotiators Believe They Have Chipped an Opening in Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in weeks, railroad and union representatives face each other today across the bargaining table, a sign that negotiators believe they have chipped an opening in the deadlock over jobs.

"In another 24 to 48 hours, we should know whether we're shadow-boxing or really making progress," J. E. Wolfe, the carriers' chief negotiator, said Monday night.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz called today's joint meetings after lengthy sessions Monday with each side.

He refused, however, to say whether any progress had been made.

Meetings were set up between the carriers and the representatives of the engine crews, engineers and firemen—and between the carriers and the train crew unions — conductors, brakemen and switchmen.

U. S. Sets Up Ambushes for North Koreans

Forces Withdraw At Dawn After Making No Contacts

WITH U.S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea (AP) — A heavy American force set up ambush positions in the demilitarized zone Monday night and withdrew at dawn today without contacting any Communist North Korean troops.

The combat-ready Americans went into position at dusk Monday. They set up three traps for Communist patrols that have been striking into United Nations territory and on occasions launching strong attacks on U.S. units.

The exact number of American troops involved was classified. But the U.S. force is known to have been much larger than the small patrols that normally guard the U.S. sector of the 151-mile truce line established after the Korean War.

North Korean Movements
It is obvious that the U.S. command is determined to stop all North Korean movement—by large Red forces or small units—into what the 1953 armistice agreement termed U.N. territory.

Orders were given that the American force hold its fire until Communist troops moved in close. "We were to use grenades and bring back the meat," one sergeant said.

Armored personnel carriers moved to within a few thousand yards of the demilitarized zone and stood by in the event a fight developed.

The scene was about 13 miles east of Panmunjom near a road junction where two Americans were killed in a North Korean ambush July 29.

2 Men Questioned In Sex Slaying of 8-Year-Old Girl

CHICAGO (AP) — At least two men have been questioned by police in the sex slaying of 8-year-old Diane Taylor, a crime that has detectives scouring an 8-square mile area on Chicago's West Side.

One man, described by neighbors as a child molester, was given a lie detector test, but police said the results were inconclusive.

Police said the man, who denied any connection with the slaying, had no previous record of sex offenses. However, he was held Monday while detectives searched his car.

Diane's body was found Saturday morning in an alley one mile from her home. Her body parts, covered by a sheet from a street, had been dumped beside the garage. She had been raped, stabbed, slashed and beaten.

Negroes May Try 'Vote-ins' In Mississippi

Officials Watchful As Balloting Begins In State Primary

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Election officials kept an uneasy watch for Negro vote-ins today as an estimated 450,000 Mississippians began voting in the Democratic primary.

Reports circulated that unregistered Negroes would invade the polls despite a ruling by Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson that such a move would be illegal.

The racial tension climaxed a campaign which centered on civil rights and the Kennedy administration. The four gubernatorial candidates, all segregationists, spent most of the campaign emphasizing their opposition to Kennedy racial policies.

The four are:
—Former governor J. P. Coleman, 49, an Ackerman lawyer who headed the state government from 1956-60.

Hattiesburg Lawyer

—Robert Mason, 65, a Magee welder who polled 2,704 votes in his 1959 race for governor.

—Charles Sullivan, 38-year-old Clarksdale lawyer who as an unknown finished a strong third in his race for governor four years ago.

Polls opened at 7 a.m. CST and close at 6 p.m.

Only one of 82 counties has voting machines and observers predicted that close races will not be decided until late Wednesday.

Observers predicted a close vote necessitating a runoff Aug. 27. Coleman was expected to face Johnson or Sullivan in the runoff.

with the Democratic nominee to go against Republican Rufel Phillips and independent Ed Bishop in the Nov. 5 general election.

The winner will succeed Gov. Ross Barnett, prohibited by state law from succeeding himself. Barnett has followed Mississippi custom by taking no public part in the race for a successor.

The vote-in plans reported by Negro sources would be an effort, by unregistered persons to cast ballots under a state law permitting those wrongly omitted from poll lists to record their choices by affidavit.

The vote-in, the sources said, would protest registration practices and procedures. A circular urging unregistered persons to file affidavits was circulated throughout the state.

Mississippi has an estimated 30,000 registered Negroes.

Bible Study Required For Alabama Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama public school children will be required to take a course in the Bible under a ruling of the State Board of Education.

In practice, however, there will be little change, if any, from current Bible-reading requirements.

The board's order to put Bible reading in the required course of study came Monday as a result of a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

The court barred reading of the scriptures and recital of the Lord's Prayer as part of required classroom exercises, but did not rule out reading the Bible as part of the course of study.

Leaders Meet To Map Civil Rights Plans

Meeting Called by NAACP to Decide Legislative Steps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leaders and white sympathizers gather today for a strategy conference designed to assure passage of civil rights legislation. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called the three-day meeting of several hundred persons from around the country to

1. Enable them to meet with their members of Congress and stress their desire for "meaningful civil rights legislation."

2. Plan "continuous grass roots activity" in the states to build popular sentiment for the legislation and convey this sentiment to Congress.

Among those listed to speak at the sessions were several Congress members and churchmen of Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths.

The sessions are distinct from the big "march for jobs and freedom" which six civil rights organizations, including the NAACP, are planning for Aug. 28.

In this demonstration, an estimated 100,000 to 250,000 Negroes and Whites are to gather near the Washington Monument and march to the Lincoln Memorial.

NATO Must Okay Nonaggression Pact

U. S., British Negotiators in Moscow Say Treaty Requires Approval of Western Powers

PARIS (AP) — President Kennedy has opened the way for France to get American nuclear help, but unless it is given without conditions, it will not be accepted, informed sources said today.

They said that Kennedy's July 25 letter to President Charles de Gaulle contained at least a hint that French adherence to the partial nuclear test ban would make American nuclear assistance possible.

Can't Make Ends Meet

Servicemen Use Relief As Low Salary Subsidy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of the services from using government funds to furnish emergency aid.

An Associated Press survey of the military services and service-affiliated relief organizations indicated today that the relief agencies have paid out millions of dollars to help provide military families with such needs as food and clothing.

Some families accept food supplies packages. Others, particularly those with many children, are able to draw state welfare payments.

Armed forces personnel special lists said many men take jobs in housing, filling stations, groceries and other private businesses to add to their service pay. Their wives often work.

"Disgraceful!"
One Marine welfare officer called it "disgraceful" that under non-commissioned officers living in Washington D.C. area should have to take odd-jobs civilian jobs to keep their heads above water.

The armed services said they do not know even approximately how many of their men have been drawing some form of relief.

This is because hard-pressed servicemen often apply to state and local agencies for help and these agencies generally keep such cases confidential.

A hint of the scope comes from the semi-official military relief organizations, which operate on voluntary contributions. These groups were set up because regulations

MOSCOW (AP) — American and British foreign policy chiefs told the Russians today negotiations on Premier Khrushchev's proposal for an East-West nonaggression pact will have to wait until the signing Monday of the partial nuclear test ban agreement.

Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home were reported to have made these points to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in talks that follow up the signing Monday of the partial nuclear test ban agreement.

Conference informants said Gromyko insisted that the three powers get to work on the nonaggression treaty, which Khrushchev originally proposed should be signed at the same time as the nuclear test ban treaty.

The Russians, however, had agreed to conclude the test ban agreement first and give the allies within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization time to talk over the nonaggression pact among themselves.

Rusk was said to have told Gromyko that he could go no further on this subject until the NATO discussions are completed.

A crowd of about 500 applauded the Big Three foreign ministers.

Opponents Of Duvalier Make Gains

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A spokesman for Haitian rebels who have invaded the north coast of Haiti Monday said today that two columns of troops have surrounded Cap-Haitien, Haiti's second city.

He said the invaders have not captured the port city of 25,000, go this morning in Santo Domingo this morning, but now command the Plain du Nord in front of the city and much of the area around it.

The rebel forces, under the command of Gen. Leon Cantave, was reported composed of exiled Haitian soldiers. They struck ashore Monday at Fort Liberté, 18 miles east of Cap-Haitien, with the aim of toppling the terrorist regime of dictator Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier.

OAS Summons Special Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States called an emergency meeting of its council for 3 p.m. (EDT) today to discuss the exile invasion of Haiti.

Fern D. Baguidy, Haiti's ambassador to the OAS, asked for the meeting.

The OAS council is empowered to act provisionally as a meeting of consultation of the American foreign ministers in cases of threats to the hemisphere's peace.

and navy were alerted after news of the invasion and Haiti charged that some of the invaders came from the adjoining Dominican Republic.

Dominican President Juan Bosch conferred with his armed forces chiefs at the national palace.

The newspaper Listin Diari said that Bosch ordered Maj. Gen. Victor Vinas Roman, armed forces minister, to the frontier Monday night to investigate invasion reports.

The newspaper also reported that a number of Haitian officials have crossed into the Dominican Republic seeking asylum. 5 o m e

Haiti — 'Land of Troubles'

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Special Correspondent

Haiti, in Indian, means Land of Hills. It should be called Land of Troubles. During the 160-year of its independent existence, it has known little but woe.

Haiti has been ruled by kings, emperors, presidents and dictators. Nearly all came to violent ends. Only six presidents ended their terms normally.

A country of 4 million, the size of Maryland, Haiti is important because of its geography. If the Caribbean is the Western Hemisphere's Mediterranean, Haiti is its potential Gibraltar.

The nation shares Hispaniola Island with the Dominican Republic. On its northwest corner is Mole St. Nicolas, where Columbus landed in 1492. From there it is 50 miles across the Windward Passage, a narrow shipping channel to Cuba. During World War II a handful of Nazi submarines bottled up the passage. If Haiti were in Castro-Communist hands, the Soviet bloc would have a formidable position astride the northern tier of the Antilles.

Descended From Slaves
Ceded by Spain to France in 1807, Haiti has known no rest since the French were driven out at the beginning of the 19th Century. Its indigenous Indians had been exterminated and its population today is descended from African slaves.

A series of emperors, kings and presidents ruled the country until 1859 when the republic was restored. Meanwhile in 1844 Santo Domingo proclaimed independence and Haiti was confined to the western third of Hispaniola.

Abraham Lincoln is said to have used Haiti in 1863 to dramatize his Emancipation Proclamation, choosing a Haitian national holiday as the date. His inspiration was supposed to have been a Haitian named William de Fleurville, Lincoln's barber.

But the United States showed little further interest in Haiti until World War I. In 1915 after prolonged Haitian violence, U. S. marines landed. The occupation lasted until 1934. Even today some old peasants believe the U. S. Marines still run things.

Extreme Poverty
Haiti's basic trouble is the extreme poverty of the Negro majority, coupled with their conflicts with the better-educated mulatto majority. About 90 per cent of the people cannot read or write. The nation's mountains make its habitable areas the most densely populated in the Western Hemisphere. There is a grave lack of roads and other means of communication.

Coffee and some sugar are the basis of the economy, which has only a small amount of light industry.

Haitians have an intense sense of living for today. In market places one still can see women shop for salt or tomato sauce by the spoonful.

"If work was good," says the Haitian peasant, "among the hemisphere's poorest," "the rich would have taken all of it."

Most Haitians feel with good reason, that

Little Chute Value Reaches $7 Million

Assessment Jump of $834,995 Due Mostly to General Increase

LITTLE CHUTE — The 1963 assessed valuation for the village is $7,143,050, or a $834,995 increase over the 1962 figure of $6,308,055, according to Nick Vanderpas, assessor.

Major reason for the increase is a 10 per cent general increase on all real estate and some new construction, according to the assessor. The overall increase, including new construction and other changes, is slightly over 12 per cent.

Four Hurt in Two Accidents In Appleton

Bicyclist Treated; Three Motorists Kept in Hospital

A young bicycle rider and three motorists were injured in separate accidents which occurred within moments of each other on opposite sides of Appleton this morning.

Treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after the bicyclist was riding was involved in a collision with a car at Richmond Street and Wisconsin Avenue. The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rossmeissl, 7, 1020 N. Fair St., was tossed 31 feet by the impact. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Figure breakdown shows residential land was valued at $728,675 in 1962 and this year raised $86,300 to $814,975 this year. Residential improvement values were jumped $533,425 from $4,080,925 to $4,614,350. Mercantile land values were increased $10,025 from $88,050 to $98,075. Mercantile improvements were increased $117,025 from $730,800 to $847,825.

Other Changes

Value of manufacturing land was increased $475 from $4,775 to $5,250. Value of manufacturing improvements were raised from $237,100 to $240,600, an increase of $3,500. Value of agricultural land also was increased from $79,550 to $82,100, an increase of $2,550. Value of agricultural improvements dropped from $230,450 to $18,175, a decrease of $2,275.

Personal property tax increased $84.40 from $337,230 in 1962 to $421,700 in 1963. Timberland was valued at $500 in 1962, but this was eliminated from the assessment roll in 1963.

The board of review held six sessions with two taxpayers appearing to object to assessments and three others appearing to check on assessed value. Vanderpas, in his twenty-third year in office, was assisted in the field work by Thomas Vanderpas.

Thrown 31 Feet

Police said the car-bicycle accident occurred when Rossmeissl drove his bicycle through a red arterial light into the path of a car being driven south on Richmond Street by Mrs. Mary K. Russell, 25, 409 Park Drive, Neenah.

Rossmeissl was thrown 31 feet after the impact. He received cuts to the head and bruises to the body. The accident was reported at 9:23 a.m.

Three persons were injured when a car driven by Joseph McGlin, 72, heading west on Spencer Street went through a stop sign and hit a car being driven by Mrs. Drephal which was going south on Mason Street. McGlin has been cited for an arterial violation by police.

Miss Drephal, sitting in the rear seat of the car, avoided being thrown from the car when she hung onto the rear door which had flown open. She was dragged 66 feet and received bruises to her legs.

Mrs. Drephal received back injuries. Mrs. McGlin, a passenger in the car being driven by her husband, received a bump on the head. The accident occurred about 9:40 a.m.

Apartment Units To Cost $300,000

Appleton may soon get its first living units. They would vary from one, two and three bedroom units.

The developers are requesting that the property be rezoned from single to multiple family. There are other apartments in the area.

"We have no doubts about undertaking this development for the Appleton; there is definitely a market here for luxury apartments," Heppner said.

Swimming Pool

Should the city act favorably on the rezoning request, construction would start on one or possibly two buildings within three months. The fourth phase of the project would be the construction of a swimming pool to serve the three apartment buildings.

Site of the proposed luxury apartments is less than a mile from the central business district.

Also pending is the rezoning of property at 803 E. John St. and 314 S. Meade St. where George Rockliff Milwaukee real estate developer, plans to erect an apartment complex. Similar buildings already have been erected in the Oshkosh and Neenah areas.

Another developer is awaiting word on rezoning requests for land on Richmond Street where he plans to build several two and three bedroom apartment units.

Robert Heppner, Appleton realtor representing the Van Housens, said the city's present code would allow three apartment buildings on the site, each containing 12

Delay Widening of Memorial-Prospect Street-Sanitation Committee To Look for Federal Aids

Postponement of the Memorial to the committee That phase of the project will cost an estimated $3,400.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues raised the question as to whether the city wanted to proceed with the street widening and pay to the whole thing, or wait and qualify for state and federal aids.

The city is doing considerable sewer construction work near the intersection and in the Front Street area.

Halted By State

The committee was told that widening of Memorial Drive was "humped" by the state a few years ago when the city requested that it be programmed.

Memorial Drive carries both U.S. 10 and State 47 traffic. Committee members generally felt willing to delay the project "to save the city money."

"I'm willing to take the criticism for the delay as long as we will be cutting the city's cost for the project," commented Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd), committee chairman.

In asking for dismissal of the case, Charne argued there was no direct proof the defendant mailed the items specified in the indictment, and said the government had relied on circumstantial evidence.

He also said the government improperly bolstered its case by putting before the jury correspondence not involved in the indictment which suggested the defendant was the type of person who might send mail such as that charged in the indictment and said this was prejudicial to him.

The appellate court reversed the guilty finding, and commended Charne "for the able service man. 19, 312 E. Franklin St., Neenah, paid $16.50 each for fishing with too many lines.

Unauthorized Ride

Fate has made the city the goal for a $67 repair bill because an unknown person "borrowed" a truck from the municipal garage July 16 took an unauthorized jaunt and bumped into a parked car.

The incident came to light Monday on two fronts.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues explained what had happened during a meeting of the street-sanitation committee, and the City of Appleton's insurance carrier turned down a damage claim.

This is what happened on July 16th.

Someone without authorization drove a municipal truck from the garage and returned it before anyone noticed the vehicle missing. No trip ticket had been made out as required by DPW rules.

When the truck bumped into the parked auto of a city employee in the lot outside of the garage.

When the employee saw the dent in his auto he reported it to his supervisors. They checked all city-owned vehicles in the garage and discovered paint on the bumper of one vehicle — the same color as the car.

Claims Denied

The employee was told to get his car repaired and the bill for $67 was forwarded to the city's insurance carrier. It denied the claim with the explanation:

At the time of the accident the City of Appleton truck which was involved was being driven by some unknown and unauthorized person.

Consequently, since the vehicle was stolen liability coverage for the City of Appleton would not apply.

City Officials Have been approached to rezone property on E. South River Street to permit development of an apartment complex which will cost $300,000 plus development on the south-

Preliminary plans for the project, which will be completed in stages, were disclosed Monday by the developers in an informal discussion with the members of the city plan commission.

Two other apartment building projects, in separate parts of the city, are also in the planning stage.

Depend on Rezoning

However, all are predicated on rezoning or variances being granted by the plan commission and the common council.

Site of the apartment complex is 71 E. South River St. The property, owned by Corwin Van Housen, president of the Scolding Lock Corp., is the former Poppe estate.

Architect for the apartments, which will rent for $130 to $200 per month, is Thomas Van Housen, an architect with Progress Design Associates of St. Paul. He is the son of Corwin.

Want Changes

Friend Shoots Appleton Man In Accident

Kenneth Jorstad Being Treated for Rifle Shot Wound

Kenneth D. Jorstad, 20, 419 E. Harding St., is being treated for a gun shot wound he received accidentally while visiting at a friend's home late Monday night.

Appleton police detectives said that Donald Welson, 23, 524 E. McKinley St., admitted shooting Jorstad with a .22 caliber rifle when he climbed the stairway with the rifle cocked and a shell in the chamber. Welson said he was going outdoors to shoot a rabbit.

Hit Railing

Welson turned when his friend called and the rifle barrel hit a stair railing and discharged. The shell hit Jorstad in the right shoulder, entering through the back of the shoulder.

Welson said he and Jorstad had been drinking beer in the recreation room when they decided to fire the rifle. Welson fired the weapon three times into an overstuffed chair. Jorstad fired the weapon once before Welson decided to shoot a rabbit in the backyard.

The incident was the second accidental shooting reported in the area in three days. Saturday Seymour Police Chief Bernard Plumb fired a blank pistol and injured Richard Kuehne of Seymour.

Detectives questioned Welson late Tuesday and asked him to re-enact the shooting and the incidents which led up to the shooting.

Had No Money

John appealed the conviction but had no money to employ a lawyer. The appellate court named Charne to represent him.

Public Works Director Seeks Garage by 1964

Robert Bues Asks Action on Municipal Structure to be Built on Southwest Side

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues recommended Monday that the city's proposed new municipal garage be constructed in 1964.

The far southwest side in the industrial park area for the proposed facility which would replace the obsolete garage at 924 W. Spencer St.

Many as Possible

It was estimated the new garage would cost between $300,000 and $400,000.

Bues said he was making his recommendation to the common council's street-sanitation committee with Mayor Clarence Mitchell the tee so the expenditure could be board of public works and representatives of various departments.

Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd), committee chairman, said he favored agencies will use the garage and construction of a new municipal garage as soon as possible and in other action the committee was critical of the fact that some said corrugated metal pipe should be used in sewer projects when feasible and authorized by the board of public works.

Bues said his purpose in bringing up the garage construction at this time was so a determination could be made as to the department had no intentions of retaining the metal vehicles to be stored and old found over the results of maintained at the new facility.

He said vehicles of the street sanitation sewage bridge, engineering and maintenance divisions would be assigned there.

Other Inclusions

He inquired whether vehicles and equipment of the park board for recreation department and other municipal agencies also would be included when drawing up space plans for the building.

Concrete vs. Metal

Committee members said they had no intentions of retaining the metal vehicles to be stored and old found over the results of maintained at the new facility.

It was explained that while a sanitation sewage bridge, engineering and maintenance divisions would be assigned there.

He inquired whether vehicles and equipment of the park board for recreation department and other municipal agencies also would be included when drawing up space plans for the building.

Site Will be Used For Construction Of New Addition

Demolition of a five-story brick building in the heart of Appleton's downtown will start Sept. 3.

Officials of the Oscar Boldt Construction Co., representing Aid of Appleton Additional Antennae will be placed on the roofs of the Appleton and Green Bay telephone offices.

"Microwave signals travel in a straight line," Van Sistine explained. "The antennae which both send and receive signals must be aimed on a 'line of sight' basis between the relay stations. To be effective, these relay points must be no more than about 18 miles apart. That is the reason that we can not have a direct path covering the 30 miles between Appleton and Green Bay," he said.

High-Frequency Waves

"Super high - frequency radio waves," Van Sistine continued, "are beamed from station to station by huge antennae mounted atop towers of high buildings. As signals are received by one antenna, they are sent to complex electronic equipment.

"This equipment, in turn, amplifies the incoming signals more than one million times, then sends them to the transmitting antenna which beams them on their way to the next station in the chain. Jensen said.

Block Off Area

A. K. Jensen, representing the construction firm, said that because of the building demolition, removal and replacement of sidewalks and the new building contemplated, it will be necessary to block off portions of streets adjacent to the building which is presently occupied by Home Mutual Insurance Co. at 224-226 W. College Ave.

"We expect to start demolition on the site on Sept. 3 and then to the transmitting antenna will continue construction during the following two - year period," to the next station in the chain. Jensen said.

Wisconsin Telephone Company Starts $414,000 Construction To Link City With Green Bay

A new microwave system between Appleton and Green Bay, the telephone message to cost $414,000, was started Monday by the Wisconsin Telephone Company.

The system, to be completed at the end of this year, will be part of a microwave network that will link Milwaukee, Appleton, Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay, according to R. C. Van Sistine, manager of the Appleton district office.

Long distance telephone service between Appleton and Green Bay is now accomplished by underground cable, Van Sistine said. When the microwave system between the two cities is completed, an ultimate of 600 simultaneous telephone calls will be added to the company's present capacity of 421 calls between the two points.

Erection of a 280-foot tower started today in the Town of Osborn, about 15 miles west of Green Bay and eight miles north of Appleton. Additional antennae will be placed on the roofs of the Appleton and Green Bay telephone offices.

Public Works Director Seeks Garage by 1964

Robert Bues Asks Action on Municipal Structure to be Built on Southwest Side

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues recommended Monday that the city's proposed new municipal garage be constructed in 1964.

The far southwest side in the industrial park area for the proposed facility which would replace the obsolete garage at 924 W. Spencer St.

Many as Possible

It was estimated the new garage would cost between $300,000 and $400,000.

Bues said he was making his recommendation to the common council's street-sanitation committee with Mayor Clarence Mitchell the tee so the expenditure could be board of public works and representatives of various departments.

Ald. Kenneth Loos (3rd), committee chairman, said he favored agencies will use the garage and construction of a new municipal garage as soon as possible and in other action the committee was critical of the fact that some said corrugated metal pipe should be used in sewer projects when feasible and authorized by the board of public works.

Bues said his purpose in bringing up the garage construction at this time was so a determination could be made as to the department had no intentions of retaining the metal vehicles to be stored and old found over the results of maintained at the new facility.

He said vehicles of the street sanitation sewage bridge, engineering and maintenance divisions would be assigned there.

Other Inclusions

He inquired whether vehicles and equipment of the park board for recreation department and other municipal agencies also would be included when drawing up space plans for the building.

Concrete vs. Metal

Committee members said they had no intentions of retaining the metal vehicles to be stored and old found over the results of maintained at the new facility.

It was explained that while a sanitation sewage bridge, engineering and maintenance divisions would be assigned there.

Site Will be Used For Construction Of New Addition

Demolition of a five-story brick building in the heart of Appleton's downtown will start Sept. 3.

Officials of the Oscar Boldt Construction Co., representing Aid of Appleton Additional Antennae will be placed on the roofs of the Appleton and Green Bay telephone offices.

"Microwave signals travel in a straight line," Van Sistine explained. "The antennae which both send and receive signals must be aimed on a 'line of sight' basis between the relay stations. To be effective, these relay points must be no more than about 18 miles apart. That is the reason that we can not have a direct path covering the 30 miles between Appleton and Green Bay," he said.

High-Frequency Waves

"Super high - frequency radio waves," Van Sistine continued, "are beamed from station to station by huge antennae mounted atop towers of high buildings. As signals are received by one antenna, they are sent to complex electronic equipment.

"This equipment, in turn, amplifies the incoming signals more than one million times, then sends them to the transmitting antenna which beams them on their way to the next station in the chain. Jensen said.

Block Off Area

A. K. Jensen, representing the construction firm, said that because of the building demolition, removal and replacement of sidewalks and the new building contemplated, it will be necessary to block off portions of streets adjacent to the building which is presently occupied by Home Mutual Insurance Co. at 224-226 W. College Ave.

"We expect to start demolition on the site on Sept. 3 and then to the transmitting antenna will continue construction during the following two - year period," to the next station in the chain. Jensen said.

Thomas Crashes Long Homer in 11-8 League Win

MAYVILLE — The Twin City Twins scored four runs in the top of the ninth to edge Mayville 11-8 here Monday night. It was their 11th triumph in 16 league starts.

The winners scored once in the sixth and added their seventh run in the eighth.

Mayville scored twice in the second and third and tallied four on one hit, a walk and four Twins' errors in the sixth.

Stan Ostrowski and Tom Schoen shared the Twins' mound duties. Schoen relieved in the sixth with one out, four runs in and base runners on second and third and put out the fire. They were touched for eight hits.

The winners collected 11 blows off three Mayville hurlers. Gib Schoen led the way with three and Stumpf, Sorensen and Thomas all had two.

Report Shows Menasha Free Of Elm Disease

MENASHA — A report from state laboratories at Madison today revealed that four suspected Dutch elm disease cases in Menasha trees are not Dutch elm disease.

Park Supt. Harry Kargus said the city does not have any incidence of the disease at this time.

An earlier case reported has been removed and burned, he said.

Two suspected cases, located on John and Arthur Streets, do not have Dutch elm disease but may be affected by other diseases — verticillium wilt or dothiella, Kargus said.

Two suspected trees in the Clovis - Grove area were reported to have verticillium wilt.

Menasha park officials became cautious of the trees after several reports of Dutch elm disease were reported in Winnebago County. Oshkosh has been the hardest hit of any city in the state, Nicollet Post 2126. Since county. Hit-Run Driver Breaks Pole, Damages Car

NEENAH — A hit and run driver smashed into an electric utility pole early today on Cedar Street, breaking the pole, disabling electric wires and causing property damage.

According to the police report, the driver made the turn too wide off E. Doty Avenue, went over the curb on the west side of Cedar Street and hit a power pole approximately 120 feet from the intersection.

Edgar Bennett, 633 E. Doty Ave., was awakened by the crash. He went to the corner, saw the broken pole and the electrical wires sparking and called the police. The driver and vehicle had left the scene before the police arrived. Police called the power company to repair the damage.

Besides the damage to the pole and the surrounding property, police estimate there was considerable damage to the right front of the car.

Some of the Trophies awarded to participants in the third annual Fox Valley Pistol tournament held in Manitowoc this year, were displayed in an Appleton sporting goods store. Appleton police took five first place awards. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Menasha Seeks Opinion on Lake Pipeline

Lake Michigan Line Studied By Commission

MENASHA—Mayor John Klein Monday night asked for an opinion from the city water and light commission on whether it would be desirable for Menasha to enter into an agreement with other Fox River cities to construct a pipeline from Lake Michigan to furnish water for the area.

The mayor stated to members of the common council, meeting in committee as a whole, that he has received a request from surrounding municipalities to state Menasha's position in the venture.

Tom McGuire, superintendent of electric and water utilities in Menasha, told council members of dollars to get," the superintendent said.

But he agreed that treatment of water from Lake Michigan would be cheaper, but he said the cost of pumping and installation of facilities would offset this.

Elm Disease Hits 4 Trees in Calumet Park

Rockland Beach On Lake Winnebago Also Reports Cases

CHILTON — It took seven years for the Dutch elm disease to work its way north to Calumet County from Beloit, where it was first reported in the state in 1956, but the inevitable outbreak couldn't have hit a more vital area—the scenic Calumet County Park and Rockland Beach area.

Specimens taken from four trees in the area were diagnosed as "positive" by the State Department of Agriculture laboratory. The afflicted trees were discovered by County Agent Orrin Meyer who took wood samples and sent them to Madison recently. The laboratory findings were returned this week.

Meyer termed the situation "serious." He estimated that about 60 per cent of the trees in the area are elms and therefore are susceptible to the disease.

He urged property owners to be on the lookout for signs of the disease. Early symptoms are wilting, curling and yellowing and finally drying of the leaves and branches. Peeling the bark from sickly but living branches reveals brown discoloration on the inner bark and heart wood.

Must Be Removed

If these symptoms are found Meyer has asked that the finder cut a sample about two feet long and pencil thick to be sent to the state laboratory for a diagnosis. Infected elms must be removed within 30 days of confirmation, according to state statutes.

Meyer described the disease as a mold which grows in the inner bark of the tree. Liquids cannot flow freely because of the growth and the tree eventually dies, Meyer said.

The disease is spread by the elm bark beetle. To check the dis-

U. S. Taking Steps To Retaliate Against Inner 6

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States took steps today to retaliate against the European Common Market for its sharp increase in tariffs on U.S. poultry products.

Christian A. Herter, chief U.S. trade negotiator, announced that a public hearing will be held next month to choose from a list of items on which this country will withdraw trade concessions granted the European Common Market.

The European Common Market, composed of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, have raised the tariff on U.S. poultry products from 4.9 cents a pound to 13.43 cents.

The result, Herter said in a statement, has been an unreasonable restriction on U.S. poultry shipments. He estimated the loss at $46 million a year.

Concessions which would be withdrawn by this country would be of an equal amount.

ease will require control of the beetle. DDT sprays are effective, but spraying must be done before April 15 to prevent destruction of songbirds.

Can Be Curbed

Meyer doubts that the disease ever will be controlled but he feels it can be curbed to prevent "overnight" destruction of the elms. Areas where infected trees are found should be checked for the presence of dead, weakened or injured elms or elm wood in which the beetle may breed or winter. This wood should be burned.

Meyer also recommended periodic pruning of elms to wipe out beetle breeding areas and suggested that any storm-injured branches should be removed from healthy trees.

Elm wood should not be stored as firewood unless the bark has been removed, he added.

Larry Fenton, an inspector for the State Department of Agriculture, inspected Chilton's elm population Monday but found no evidence of the disease, according to Arthur Pohland, city clerk.

'Oohs' and 'Ahhs'

Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus Delights 6,000 From Fox Cities

BY PATRICK McELHINNEY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Loons, tigers, elephants, acrobats, trapeze artists, gymnasts, tightrope walkers, bicycle stunt riders, clowns, clowns, clowns—everything a circus is supposed to have was a part of the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus.

All rolled up into a fun-filled, exciting performance, the show was presented for more than 6,000 Fox Valley residents Monday afternoon and evening on Highway 47 in the Town of Menasha.

Complete with straw on the ground and with a big top proclaimed as the largest in the circus business today, the performers and the animals fascinated the crowd at the evening performance for more than an hour and a half.

The circus performance was an obvious success, if the amount of applause, the laughter, the appropriate "Oohs" and "Ahhs" were any indication.

There was more than one spectator—both children and adults—who watched with hands in front of their faces but their fingers spread, the feats of highwire trapeze artists working 30 feet above the ground.

There was more than one baby who cried at the roar of animals or other circus sounds and had to be pacified with a souvenir sold by concessionaires.

There was more than one person who turned to look at his program or something else and missed a split-second maneuver done by one of the well trained stars.

Aware of Timing

It was apparent throughout the show that everyone involved was aware of timing. Performers went through their stunts with a precision that reflected hours and hours of practicing to perfect timing and balance.

Watching the stage hands setting up for each successive act was almost like watching a workers' ballet. The men put up nets, took down riggings, rearranged lights and handled hundreds of limes and other paraphernalia with almost as much timing and precision as the men and women who got the spotlight.

'Must Be Seen'

It would do little good to list those who performed Monday—a circus is an epitome of the statement, "It must be seen to be appreciated."

Verbal descriptions cannot describe the tension felt while watching three young people risking their lives balancing on a thin wire above the ground, neither can words describe the amusement that comes from watching clowns in their antics. Watching a circus is a personal experience. The Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros.

Ribicoff Says Kennedy Backs Restricted Aid To Parochial Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said today the Kennedy administration supports restricted federal aid to church-related schools.

Ribicoff cited in a prepared Senate speech a July 3 letter from Francis Keppel, commissioner of education, that it is his view there should be "federal financial assistance to private education at all levels, using such means as are generally agreed to be constitutional."

There is a general misunderstanding, Ribicoff said, that President Kennedy opposed aid to parochial schools as unconstitutional. But he said what Kennedy opposes is across-the-board aid and not assistance given to such projects as the building of a chemistry laboratory.

Lawrence Says: Is President Informed on Racial Scene?

Demonstrations
Not Petering Out
As Kennedy Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — It might be wondered whether President Kennedy really has any time to read the newspapers or if not, whether he is being told by his aides just what is going on in connection with the Negro and white "demonstrations" in different parts of the country.

The impression conveyed by the President at his latest news conference was that the racial "demonstrations" were petering out when actually they have been spreading and their intensity has been increasing. It may be, of course, as often happens in politics, that the tactics of the administration are to "play down" what is occurring, but the newspapers are certainly printing the facts every day.

The President at his news conference did not take exception to a statement that "it has seemed as the summer has progressed the vigor or some of the fever has gone out of the Negro demonstrations that we had around the country earlier in the year." Mr. Kennedy was then questioned as to why this might have come about and what effect it might have on legislation, and he replied:

"I think it is partly because an awful lot of work is being done in the local communities by biracial groups, by responsible officials, and this is true north and south, east and west, partly because I think the Negroes are aware that the Congress is considering legal remedies for some of the difficulties that they face partly because the responsible Negro leadership, I think, realizes that this is a long-drawn-out task to bring about, which requires jobs, which requires education and all the rest, and a quick demonstration in the street is not the immediate answer."

No Solution
"But merely because the demonstrations have subsided, it doesn't seem to me — those of us who are in a position of responsibility — does not mean that we should go to sleep and forget the problem, because that is no solution. So I think it may be a good thing that the demonstrations, particularly in their extreme form, are subsiding. I think in some cases they were becoming self-defeating, and particularly demonstrations that I have seen, that I have read about recently, which seemed, to me to be rather fringe actions. I thought they were self-defeating. But I would hope that if there is a period of quiet, that we would use it and not merely regard it as an end to the effort."

But a careful examination of "The New York Times," for example, in the four days preceding the President's news conference of last Thursday, shows that on Monday the first page contained a headline which read, "Negroes To Push Picketing In City In Drive For Jobs — Demonstrations Due Today at Projects In Brooklyn, Queens And Harlem." On Tuesday morning a headline on the first page of the "Times" read as follows: "Pickets Arrested For Blocking Way To Mayor's Office." On another page, an article told how a criminal court judge lectured nine persons, including seven clergymen, who pleaded guilty to violating the law by their demonstrations on July 22. On another page, a dispatch from Boston reported the first clash in that city as a result of a demonstration by both Negro and white.

Front Page
On Wednesday "The New York Times," on its front page, stated that there had been a "clash" during July as a result of demonstrations in New York City. This time, adults were arrested at a medical center in Bronx where 18 children were picked up as they were going to the hospital. A dispatch from New York from Clarksonville, N.Y., reported the arrest of 52 Negroes — mostly a number of youths — for picketing without a permit.

On Thursday morning, on the first page of "The New York Times" was a headline reading: "Near Riot, Flares In Race Protest At Project Here — Pickets Hit And Kicked Police In Bronx After Blocking Street." On the inside pages of the "Times" on the same day were articles telling of riots and demonstrations.

On Friday morning, in the issue following the President's news conference, a headline on the first page of the "Times" in the column read as follows: "7 Pick-Up From Chicago the events of last night and four policemen were predominantly white neighborhood. Let's Seize For Blockading Cover, Wednesday night and the follow-up last night and early to from a Negro neighborhood, human's Door — Patrolman Is Mauling morning. The dispatch, re-day in disturbances touched off riots of Negroes gathered at the "In the second column of the column before the President's press by the move of two Negro families intersection and joined Negro and same page appeared the head-conference on Thursday after lies into a predominantly white white policeman who sought to residential neighborhood. Police Squads "Hundreds of white persons" "Police estimated that 1,000 persons were involved in the two disturbances." "So it is a little difficult to see why the President feels that the fever or vigor of the 'demonstrations' is 'subsiding'." Three blocks away, across a railroad viaduct that divides the

Appleton Man Pleads Guilty to Pair of Traffic Violations
OSHKOSH — Kenneth Newhouse, 28, Appleton, pleaded guilty Monday to hit and run driving without a driver's license. Judge James V. Sitter ordered Newhouse held in the county jail without bond to await sentencing Wednesday. Newhouse admitted hitting a car, driven by Clayton Ponkratz, 46, Green Bay, at County Trunk BP and U.S. 10 at 5:40 p.m. Saturday and failing to stop. Ponkratz followed Newhouse who was later picked up by county police at a tavern on State 114. Arraignment of Susette Walker, 22, 710½ E. Franklin St., Appleton, who was with Newhouse, on a disorderly conduct charge, was postponed until next Monday.

Study Planned To Curb Spread Of Elm Disease

Kimberly Board Approves Program For Village Trees

KIMBERLY — The village board Monday night authorized the board of public works to undertake a study of the type of spray equipment needed and the extent of a program to be set up to insure Kimberly of adequate protection against Dutch elm disease.

The recommendation was made after a state report suggested a larger spraying program more pruning and constant vigilance to insure the continued health of the many large elm trees in the community.

Board members approved final payment for installation of Kimberly Avenue. The final statement from Fox Valley Construction Co. was $1,000 above the bid price and board members questioned the bill but were informed additional concrete was needed above that listed in the contract, an extra catch basin was installed and added work carried out on the intersections.

The city of Appleton was granted permission to use the hydrant located at the west limits of the village for fighting fires. Permission extends to Aug. 1964. The matter is to be studied further by the water commission.

Approval was given to purchase $75 worth of spray to be used on poison ivy in Sunset Point Park. Board members accepted N. Rogers Street and Sunset Drive in the Riverview Heights Estate as sites of the spraying.

Tear Down Tower
The street department foreman was authorized to tear down the lookout tower located on two lots recently donated the village by Kimberly-Clark Corporation. Board members want the tower removed as it is a nuisance to the city in keeping youngsters off it.

Board members agreed to maintain a ditch north of the Chicago and North Western Railway tracks to provide adequate drainage for the new high school. Cost for ditching and maintaining the ditch is to be borne by the school district.

Approval was given for payment of $25 to Cyril Mader for fertilizing and seeding a 2-acre plot to be used for park purposes in 1964.

Approval also was given Cletus Gaffney to attend an assessor's institute Sept. 9-11 at Eagle River.

2 Performances Of 1-Act Plays Set at Kimberly

KIMBERLY — The drama group, under the direction of Miss Mary Ellen Mills, has scheduled two performances of the two one-act plays to be presented Aug. 14 in the high school auditorium.

A double performance was scheduled after many adults objected to noise created by children at last year's plays. A performance will be held at 6 p.m. for youngsters and at 7:30 p.m. for adults. Children will not be permitted to attend the adult showing.

The plays are offered under the direction of the recreation department. No charge will be made. Younger students will present "The Magic Well" and older students, "The Emperor's Nightgale."

Kiwanis to Hear Of African Missions

LITTLE CHUTE — The Rev. Retrand Ebbien, a missionary from the Dominican Order who spent three years in Nigeria, will be speaker for the Kiwanis dinner meeting at 6:05 p.m. today at Hammen's Restaurant.

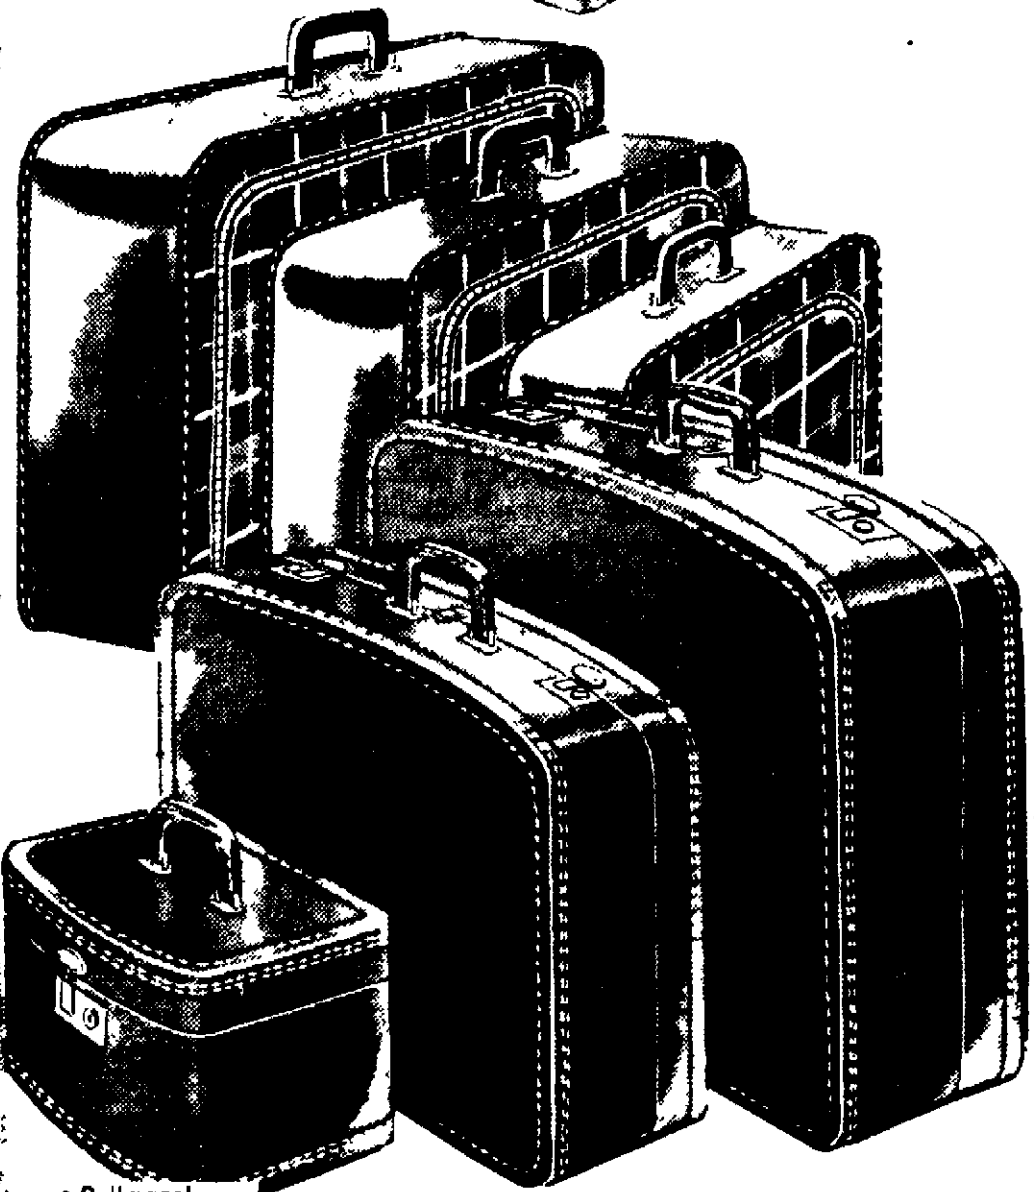

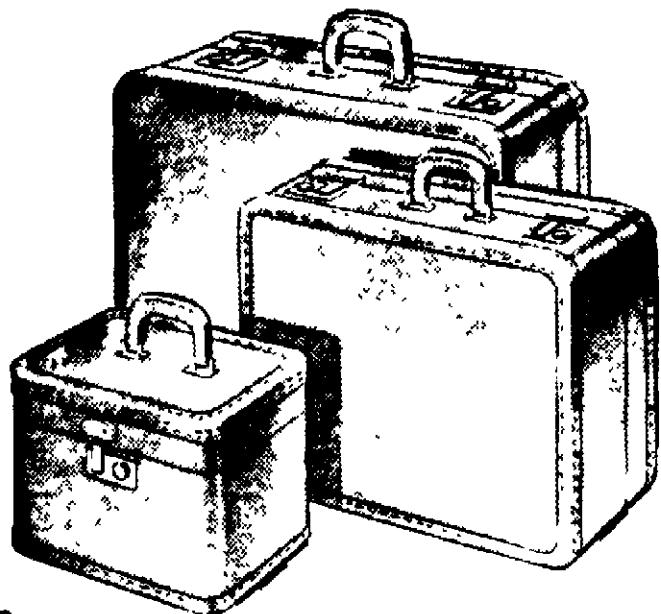

Guests for the affair will be members of the Kimberly organization. The Rev. Mr. Ebbien will supplement his talk with colored slides. Plans will be discussed for the Ladies Night program to be held Aug. 13 and the Kiwanis Kids Day, to be held Aug. 12 at Little Park.

Hiroshima Marks A-Bombing of City

Japanese Joyed by Ban Pact

BY JOHN RODERICK
HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The people of Hiroshima paused today to mourn the victims of history's first atom bomb attack made on their city 18 years ago today. But they took heart from the signing of the partial nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow.

At 8:15 a.m.—the exact time that the American B29 "Enola Gay" dropped the bomb on Aug. 6, 1945—a swarm of doves wheeled into the air and the Hiroshima peace bell began its sorrowful toll.

A crowd of 15,000 stood with bowed heads for a minute of silence before the simple, arched memorial to the city's atomic dead.

Mayor Shinzo Hamai, dressed in black, referred to the Moscow treaty in his memorial address, expressing "great gratification that at long last a pact for the partial banning of nuclear weapons has been concluded by the United States, the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union."

The memorial ceremony was brief and restrained, in marked contrast to the confusion and political bickering which broke up the opening Monday night of the Communist-dominated ninth world conference against hydrogen and atom bombs.

Red Chinese Delegates

Delegates from Red China, Soviet Russia and many other countries were present at the commemoration today, but they were relegated to the background.

The conference split over whether to denounce nuclear testing by the Western powers only, as Red Chinese and the Japanese Communists demanded, or testing by all nations, as the Russians and the Japanese Socialists proposed.

Japanese Socialists and labor unionists walked out of the opening ceremony, resigned from the conference and prepared to stage a conference of their own. The Soviet delegation, the Indians and others turned their backs Monday night on a Chinese delegate who was condemning the nuclear test ban treaty.

Conference meetings scheduled for today were postponed.

Goldwater Seeks GOP United Front

Senator Calls on Party to Begin Attacks on Democrats, Policies

BY JACK BEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater called on Republicans today to "stop chewing on each other and start chewing on the Democrats."

That was the Arizona Republican's reply to the action of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on Monday in sidestepping an Albany news conference question on whether he will back Goldwater for president if the latter becomes the 1964 GOP nominee.

All Rockefeller would say was: "We've got a long way to go." The governor also raised again the issue of whether Goldwater is a "captive of the radical right."

Tired of Knocking

Asked about this in an interview, Goldwater said he is getting tired of Republicans knocking other Republicans. He said that's just what the Democrats want them to do.

"It's time for us Republicans to stop chewing on each other and start chewing on the Democrats," he said. "The Democrats are better fed now that they are in power and they are getting soft. We ought to get our teeth into them."

Asked if he will support Rockefeller if the New York Governor becomes the 1964 nominee, Goldwater said "he hasn't even announced that he is available." He added that he wants to wait and see what happens.

"I have a habit of supporting Republican presidential nominees unless they are personally obnoxious to me, and that hasn't happened in a long time," Goldwater said.

Personally Obnoxious

Could Rockefeller be classified as personally obnoxious to him? No, the senator didn't think so.

Rockefeller was reminded by a reporter that he had said in a previous statement that voters should have an alternative to President Kennedy's administration and would not find it in the radical right. Would Goldwater provide such an alternative, he was asked.

"Not if he were a captive of the radical right," was the reply.

Goldwater, asked if he is a captive of the radical right, replied: "I'm not the captive of anyone."

"I don't get made very easily. It doesn't pay."

But Goldwater complained that he doesn't know how Rockefeller defines the radical right.

Great Favor

"I think Gov. Rockefeller would do the country a great favor if he would explain his interpretation of the so-called 'radical right,'" Goldwater said. "Then we would know where we are going. He keeps talking about it, but he doesn't say what he means."

The Arizona Senator said that Rockefeller is talking about John Birch Society members, he is demanding an end to Portuguese colonialism and racial repression in South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

"I've been denouncing him for the last two and a half years," he said.

O'Konski May Run Against Johnson in '64

Democrats Consider GOP 10th District Vote Hunting Area

BY RICHARD P. POWERS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Signs in the political winds point to Rep. Lester Johnson, D-Wis., whose Congressional district was cut up by the Wisconsin Legislature, as the opponent of Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, R-Wis., in the 10th district next year, assuming both win renomination.

Johnson insists, however, that he has come to no conclusions on his course.

About two-thirds of Johnson's present district will go into O'Konski's 10th district for the 1964 election. Two-ninths will be in the district of Rep. Vernon Thompson, R-Wis., and one-ninth in that of Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.

Johnson has been urged by Louis Hanson, Wisconsin Democratic chairman, to run against O'Konski.

Vote-Hunting Grounds

In addition, although it has sent O'Konski to Congress for years, the 10th district is considered by Democrats as good vote-hunting grounds.

They point out, for instance, that Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., carried the 10th last fall, as did Democratic Gov. John Reynolds, and that President Kennedy rolled up a majority there in 1960.

On the other hand, Kennedy made his poorest showing in the state in Thompson's 3rd district.

There has been speculation in Kennedy administration would offer Johnson a federal appointment. While this may come raised a long section of pipe and it came in contact with power lines above.

3 Illinois Youths Killed by Hot Wire

MITCHELL, Ill. (AP)—Three youths from Glen Carbon, Ill., were electrocuted on a farm near Mitchell Monday. They were identified as Richard Schlemmer, 17; William Shatz Jr., 16; and Bill Henry, 20.

State police said they and four other youths were moving irrigation pipe from one ditch to another, when they apparently raised a long section of pipe and it came in contact with power lines above.

Two other youths suffered minor burns and were treated and released.

Task of Raising Funds for State Hard Job, Gov. Reynolds Asserts

BY JOHN W. REYNOLDS
Written for the Associated Press
The Legislature convened in January and was immediately confronted with a single problem which overrode all others in magnitude and significance. That was the problem of maintaining vital property taxes would have had to be increased to record levels.

12,000 Students

The addition of 12,000 students in average daily attendance at our university and state colleges would have meant either a lowering of educational standards or the turning away of students who want and need higher education.

Failure to meet this problem would have meant continuance of unacceptable conditions in our colonies for the retarded, and deterioration of the high level of patient care we have established in our mental hospitals.

Now that an acceptable budget level has been established, the Legislature has an ample opportunity, in November, to demonstrate that it is serious about sweeping the country. It will have before it at least two major proposals of this administration—the acceleration of our highway program so that our roads are modernized before progress passes us by, and the acceleration of our recreation program so that our vacation industry can grow before soaring land prices exhaust our land acquisition funds.

Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds gives his evaluation of the initial session of the 1963 Wisconsin Legislature in the following article. It is the last in a two-part series.

Executive Shot, Killed In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—An executive of Attendant Service Corp. has been shot to death in his firm's downtown, fifth-floor office.

Cyrus Garfield, 55, died Monday in a hospital shortly after he was shot in the face during a scuffle with three men described as well-dressed Negroes.

Garfield, secretary of the company which operates checkroom and other night club concessions and supplies parking attendants, had returned from lunch with an associate, Ben King.

King told police the trio was waiting for them, posed as representatives of a South Side organization, and wanted to know how many Negroes the firm employed. They were told "any number of them," King said.

The three began shoving Garfield, King reported, and Garfield resisted. Then King, who had started to the inner offices, heard a shot and turned to find Garfield on the floor.

The men fled down a nearby stairway, leaving in the reception room a brief case containing about 17 feet of rope and a roll of black tape.

There was no obvious motive for the crime, although police said the trio may have intended to rob the office, shared with two vending corporations.

Customer Trims Beauty Shop

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The trim brunette, saying she was a guest, got a $20 haircut at the hotel beauty shop.

Then she asked to take a $275 wig to show her husband before she bought it. The beauty shop manager agreed, especially when the customer insisted on leaving her own purse as security.

When the customer failed to return, the manager, Norma Clarke, looked at the purse's contents. They proved to be papers and a hotel ash tray.

The hotel said it had no guests corresponding to the description Miss Clarke gave.

Jesuit Outlines Rome's Position on Lutherans At Helsinki Assembly

Religion Regarded as Genuine Christian Church, Priest Says

BY DICK BODERLUND
HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Roman Catholics recognize the Lutheran Church as a "genuine Christian church," but cannot acknowledge it as the true church, a Jesuit theologian says.

Father Johannes Witte, S.J., one of two Roman Catholic envoys to the Fourth Lutheran World Federation assembly, made the distinction Monday night in urging further progress toward Christian unity.

He was asked at a news conference whether the presence of the two Catholic envoys indicates that Catholics recognize the Lutheran Church as a genuine Christian church.

"Roman Catholics cannot acknowledge the Lutheran Church as the true church, because Jesus Christ founded one church and this one church is guaranteed until the end of time," he said.

But, citing a 1860 Vatican statement of policy, he added, "Roman Catholics recognize the several elements of the church outside the Roman Catholic Church." The late Pope John XXIII referred to them "as churches" despite the dividing line between the church of Jesus Christ and "those who are outside," he said.

Salvation Message

Father Witte, professor of evangelical theology at the Papal Gregorian University in Rome, stressed that both Roman Catholics and Protestants believe in the message of salvation.

The Lutheran assembly reviewed a report dealing with justification by faith Monday and returned it to committee for further study.

The report, which explores the central theme of Lutheran teaching, drew sharp criticism. Several delegates said the report merely restated old phrases.

They called for a statement on justification by faith that could be understood by the modern man who does not know God.

The report referred to non-Christians as "Godless," an Indian delegate said, and this was widely resented.

IRS Files Lien Against Convict

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—The Internal Revenue service has filed a lien against a convicted bank robber in the federal penitentiary here because he didn't pay taxes on the money he stole on the ground she said on a robbery.

The lien for $32,462.43 was filed Monday against Calvin L. Hughes, 35, a former Air Force man who was convicted of robbing a court petition for an injunction to prevent enforcement of the revocation of his license.

His attorney, Bernard W. Minvison, said he was dismissing her petition for an injunction to prevent enforcement of the revocation of his license.

He said the department hours after the robbery and all has agreed to give her a license, showing her age as 33.

Woman's Right to Lie On License Upheld

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Woman's right to fib about her age was upheld Monday when the Department of Motor Vehicles decided not to revoke the driver's license of insurance underwriter Sumi Vella.

The department tried to revoke Miss Vella's license last June 30 on the ground she said on a renewal application that she was 25, whereas her age is 33.

Her attorney, Bernard W. Minvison, said he was dismissing her petition for an injunction to prevent enforcement of the revocation of her license.

He said the department hours after the robbery and all has agreed to give her a license, showing her age as 33.

Republicans Planning for Dinner In Honor of Rep. John Byrnes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Republican organization men are quietly collaborating on plans of Eighth District Republican for a state wide testimonial dinner in October in honor of Rep. John W. Byrnes. R-Green Bay, veteran Wisconsin representative and chairman of challenges in the reformation effect about a decade and a half ago.

Mrs. Rebecca Barton, who recently retired as director of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights is now living in California with her husband, who is ill.

She has offered to continue to serve as a consultant to the commission, which has yet to act on the naming of a successor to the chief staff job.

There was some surprise in statehouse circles when Gov. Reynolds named Patrick J. Lucey, the retired head of the Democratic party organization, as a member of the relatively inconspicuous State Investment Commission. Lucey could have had his pick of the jobs within the appointive power of the governor.

Some legislators interested in county board reorganization hooted the other day when Fox Valley legislators led by Assemblyman Martin of Menasha brought in a resolution to set up another study committee on the subject.

This is the time-honored method of putting off action, especially favored by interests that are not sure enough of their strength to invite a roll call test in the legislature.

But in this instance there is a difference. The study committee resolution, as approved, unequivocally commands the study group to bring in a concrete county board reorganization proposal that the 1965 legislature will be required to accept or reject.

The legislative hoppers are well-titled with perennial propositions, ideas for new statutes that really get any serious consideration but which hopeful pressure groups patiently introduce year after year.

One of the most persistent of such sponsoring groups is a state association of farm auctioneers, which for several decades has asked for a state licensing and qualification law for auctioneers — and which has very little more support for the scheme today than when it was optimistically presented many long years ago.

As the farm interest declines in Robert Marotz, lawyer, former assemblyman and former speaker, is being boomed by some of his friends for appointment to the vacant job of chief of the legislative reference library.

When the Wisconsin assembly refused to approve a proposal to charge a slight additional fee for individually chosen motor vehicle registration numbers of automobile license applicants, it ignored the advice of the motor vehicle department that such selective registration is costly in clerical and bookkeeping procedures.

The best explanation of the legislator's decision, in defiance of the fiscal difficulties confronted by the state treasury, is that the legislative politician likes the present system which permits him to arrange for desirable special numbers asked for by his constituents.

Whatever the motor vehicle owner may think, it is not really hard to get a special number — such as one containing a reminder of a wedding anniversary, or a birthday or whatever. The fact voted for the bill may very well be that there are ten numbers find a challenger in the person available in any stated combination of a Republican rival, and some non, as a result of the staggered Democrats are worrying about system of registrations put into

Right-Wing Terrorists Spread Fear in Japan

Movement Is Politically Insignificant But Leaves Potent Trail of Arson, Murder

BY CONRAD FINE
TOKYO (AP)—The two young men walked boldly into the luxurious house, carrying tools of their trade: pistol, can of gasoline, handwritten manifesto.

Handing the paper to a servant, they fired two shots into the floor, sprinkled gasoline around and threw down a lighted match.

As flames surged through the house, the men strolled away. The house was destroyed.

It was owned by Construction Minister Ichiro Kono, a member of Japan's ruling Liberal-Democratic party and Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's conservative, pro-American government.

Political Terrorism
The act was political terrorism as practiced by Japan's small but dangerous rightist movement.

National police estimate rightist groups number 400 and their firm membership 70,000. They sometimes quarrel with each other, splinter in all directions and are believed to be politically insignificant.

The rightists wield influence all out of proportion to their numbers for two primary reasons:

- Two Reasons
1. They represent a dreaded history of arson and murder before World War II, contributing to the death of parliamentary democracy.
 2. Because some rightists have a murderous disregard for lives—including their own—none of their opponents ever feels safe. Many government officials never are without bodyguards. Leftist leaders, the rightists' avowed targets, sleep uneasily.

Rightists had been conducting a smear campaign for months against Kono, charging in pamphlets that he is soft on communism. This apparently arises from Kono's desire—widely held in Japan—to improve trade relations with the Soviet Union.

The manifesto left behind when Kono's house was burned July 15 declared: "This is just the beginning. If the Liberal-Democratic party doesn't repent, there will be more fires."

The note was signed, "Patriotic Comrades' Society, All-Japan Patriotic Organizations, Congress. Responsible person—Shusuke Nomura."

Nomura, 28, president of the society, surrendered to police two days later. Authorities said he cheerfully admitted burning the house.

Behind Bars
A friend, Takuo Matsuno, soon was arrested and police had practically the entire membership of the "Patriotic Comrades' Society" behind bars.

In December 1961, police uncovered a plot to murder Ikeda and members of his government and set up a rightist regime.

But the immediate danger is thought to lie with the individual terrorists who seek out one victim or, at the most, a few.

Some, such as a 17-year-old boy arrested near Ikeda's house last fall, try to martyr themselves. The boy cut off a finger, protesting "weak-kneed government policy" that he said was turning Japan into a nation of leftists.

Others, like 17-year-old Otoyama Yaguchi, take up the knife or gun. Yaguchi drove a short sword into the abdomen of the Socialist party chairman, Inejiro Asanuma, in 1960, killing him.

Mexicans Are Drinking More Now, Enjoying It

Appleton Cemetery Now Claims Oldest Ginkgo in Wisconsin

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

POTPOURRI — I give fond thanks today to those who were good enough to report on the presence in this area of the ancient ginkgo trees which are quite rare but still "growable" this far north.

To our former list of Ginkgos we may now add several more in the region. The oldest, apparently, is one of several in Appleton's Riverside cemetery which dates back at least to 1890, if Arthur Biendarra remembers correctly from word from his father. If it is as old as Mr. Biendarra believes, it is almost surely the oldest ginkgo in Wisconsin. The largest I have found are in Milwaukee but I am sure they are less than 40 years old.

Reports came from Oshkosh, too, where one ginkgo tree is growing on the campus of the Wisconsin State College. The tree there was planted about 25 years ago. There also are several ginkgo trees on the campus at the University of Wisconsin but our informants did not know their age.

There also is a ginkgo tree on the northeast corner of N. Broadway and Randall Avenue in East De Pere. Mrs. Hugo Wells knows that it is at least 50 years old for it was growing there when her family acquired the property.

Apparently all of the ginkgo trees reported by readers have been planted manually. None is a female tree, and I know of the scant numbers of them, the ginkgo is rare although obviously it can grow and thrive in this climate. I once discovered a strange, hybrid mountain ash tree growing in Oconto Falls. It was between Sorbus intermedia and So-brus Aucuparia. It is of European origin and is used ornamentally. It is the only mountain ash I have ever seen which has pinnate leaves instead of the better known form of compound leaves.

Do you know where Wisconsin's largest trees are?

Well, we can claim the largest pin oak tree in the United States. The tree stands in front of the Angus Lookaround museum on the former Menominee Indian Reservation.

The pin oak stands 78 feet tall and measures almost 1 feet in circumference.

The largest white pine in Wisconsin stands near Newald in Forest County. It has a circumference of 17 feet, two inches.

Our largest butternut tree stands in the Flambeau State Forest in Sawyer County. It measures eight feet, six inches in circumference.

There is a Norway pine at Camp Bird near Sand Lake in Marinette County. It is eight feet, 10 inches in circumference, and 98 feet tall.

Now extremely rare, an American chestnut still grows on the Lunde farm about three and a half miles east of Trempealeau in Trempealeau County. It is seven feet, 10 inches in circumference.

The largest jackpine in the United States stands in Wisconsin, near Brule. It is 79 feet tall and is six feet, two inches in circumference.

Wisconsin can lay claim, also, to the largest black ash. It is in Chippewa County Forest, is 79 feet tall and is eight feet, eight inches in circumference.

Chokecherry trees are relatively small, but the largest one in the nation is at Madison. It is 34 feet tall and has a circumference of three feet.

Also a champion in the nation is a white spruce tree which grows near Herbster. Seventy-five feet tall, it has a circumference of 10 feet, one inch.

Tests Check Reactions Of Cows to Living in Nuclear Fallout Shelter

ELKHORN, Neb. (AP)—Thirty guernsey cows and a bull go underground today to begin a two-week test of how animals would react to living in a nuclear fallout shelter.

The test will be conducted by J. Gordon Roberts, an Omaha dairyman, in a $35,000 shelter erected in 1961 at Roberts' dairy farm near Elkhorn.

The animals will be taken outside for exercise for short periods after the first day or two—just as they could be after the nuclear fallout began dissipating in an actual attack.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek Is Living Legend to Her People

BY DORIS KLEIN
 TAIPEI, Formosa—Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek ducks her head, smiles and asks, "Please don't make me sound too stuffy." Minutes before, eyes flashing, a long, lacquered fingernail stab-

Madame Chiang

The Wellesley-educated Chinese beauty, Madame Chiang, still lives on the island outpost of Formosa with her husband, the Generalissimo. What is her life like these days? An Associated Press writer visited her recently to make this report.

bing the air, she snapped her determination to drive the Communists from the China mainland—soon. Then she insists her visitor put down her pen and try some tea

"Here I stay in one place." But the suitcase is packed for the return trip. A fire blazes in the living room of Scholar's Grove the Chiang's small villa set beside a botanical garden in Taipei. The flames glint off the mother-of-pearl inlaid rosewood furniture, antiques which the Generalissimo shipped out before the Communists reached their home in Shanghai. Over the fireplace hangs paintings by Mme. Chiang, a new-found hobby. But it isn't painting Mme. Chiang wants to talk about. Chain-smoking mentholated cigarettes, she speaks what is on her mind: "Temporary failure does not mean eventual defeat. One must be ready for the next opportunity. "China is ready now for our return to the mainland. "The Communists themselves have admitted more cases of subversion by the people than ever before. And there has been famine. Hatred and famine and inhumanity are driving more people from the Communist mainland than ever before. "Even some of the Communist cadres are breaking up. They feel they have been deceived." No Big Revolt Still, Mme. Chiang admits, there have been no large scale revolts against the Communists. "They have nothing to fight among the Embassy Row homes with," she says. "The Communists have taken away even brass sinks and metal work on windows and doors. They have nothing left but wooden clubs and bamboo sticks. "The United States must realize that this is an internal Chinese problem. "Russia won't come to the aid of the Chinese Communists. With Kung, lives near New York City the present conflict between Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung and Khrushchev Mao Berkeley, Calif. Her younger brother, T. A. Soong is chairman of the board of the Bank of China in San Francisco. First in Parliament Reflecting over the years, Mme. Chiang says, "I think I have done something for the women of China. I was the first woman in parliament. I served two terms before I decided not to run again. I saw to it that one-tenth of the parliament were women. "With the Anti-aggression

 Leagues, we are trying to raise the standard of living, help dependent of the troops. Our women are taking a very active part. "Women should be more active. They don't have the same motives as men. They are not anxious to establish reputations or themselves in political careers. They just do what needs to be done." Egg Wash When you are using a slightly beaten egg as an egg wash for pastry that needs a brown glazed look, you can add from one to three teaspoons of cold water to the egg. and Chinese cake—"I'm afraid it should be eaten warm." It is the old magic—that mixture of lash and lotus blossom which makes Mme. Chiang, at 65, an Asian legend, far from retirement. With her Generalissimo husband she battled warlords, Japanese invaders and Communists for more than 35 years until the Communists banished their Nationalist forces from the mainland in 1949. For nearly 13 years, the Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang have reigned on this island outpost "not one third as large as our smallest province." Neurotic 'Friend' Told to Go Elsewhere With Hocus Pocus

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife has a close friend who, in my opinion, is a nut. This filbert is a strong believer in mental telepathy, which is all right with me, but it's not all right with me when she makes a nervous wreck out of my wife because of some of her far-out ideas.

Last night — or I should say this morning at 3:05 a.m. — the nut called my wife on the telephone and asked, "Are you O.K., Min?" Naturally my wife was scared out of her wits, getting a call at such an hour. We have a boy in the service and we thought something had happened to him. The nut said, "I just had a dream that you were in a terrible accident and I'm so relieved to know you are O.K. Now I can sleep."

Well, maybe she could sleep, but my wife and I were up all night.

This isn't the first time she has scared my wife with her hocus pocus. Please tell me what you think ought to be done? — Mel

Dear Mel: No friend calls at 3:05 a.m. to ask if "you're all right." There is something punitive about the woman's behavior and your wife should not hesitate to tell her friend that from now on she doesn't wish to hear any more on the subject.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 18 and leaving for college in September. I haven't dated much because my mother believes all boys are interested in only one thing. She has harped so long on the evils of sex that I'm sure she is mentally ill on the subject.

Recently I started to go with a fellow who is tops in every way. Wendell is two years ahead of me in school. The only thing my mother can find wrong with Wendell is that he is a junior at the college I plan to attend. She says I'm asking for trouble if I get interested in a hometown boy and then go off to college with him.

I'm a serious student and intend to get as much out of college as possible. I've always been trustworthy and her reasoning makes no sense to me. If you think Mother has a valid point, wrong, please tell her so she'll please tell me. If you think she's got off my back. — Lottie to goof off at college it doesn't much matter if the boys are home grown or not. Your attitude toward schooling will determine how well you do. And your attitude sounds excellent.

The rest of your problem appears in the last sentence of your first paragraph.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't know if that letter signed "Al's Mistress" came from Pittsburgh, but there is an identical case here and I want to tell you what happened.

Eight days after your letter appeared in the Pittsburgh Press, this couple invited several friends to a "hurry-up" wedding. We all knew these two have been sharing an apartment for years. Our group has been talking about it and laughing our heads off.

Even if that letter came from another city the situation was close enough so that at least one gal got the fellow to marry her — and darned fast, too. I saw three cheers for you Annie old kid. — Sideline Sammy

Dear Sammy: Thank you for those cheers. And now that they're married why don't you and your group talk about something else?

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Ailing House Remodeling Your Closet

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q. We want to improve our storage facilities and plan to remodel our closets for this purpose. Where can we get information on an efficient layout?

A: Lumber and building supplies dealers may have this type of information available. Many of the shelter magazines frequently have items on efficient lay-outs of closet and storage space.

Or send for the following publications, containing detailed, specific information "Household Storage Units" (No. CS-1), available for 15 cents from Small Homes Council, University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill. "Ideas for Storage in Your Home," $1.75, published by Lane Publishing Co., Menlo Park, Calif. The latter, "Sunset" book, may be available at your variety or book store.

Smoothing Walls

Q. The living and dining room in our old house have a very rough plaster surface of all dust. Spackle can be used to the shelter magazines frequently have items on efficient lay-outs of a smooth surface but do not want applying it with a trowel.

Can you suggest a method?

A. There is a type of plaster that has special adhesive qualities which you could use on the walls without sanding. It is available at large paint, hardware and building supplies dealers. If unobtainable, the following method will give a smooth surface: take off the roughest part of the texture by rubbing with coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood, or with a portable electric sander. Brush off of the rough part of the texture by rubbing with coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood, or with a portable electric sander. The Appleton Recreation Department's production of the favorite children's musical opens at 8 tonight at Madison Junior High School. The cast of 36 and chorus of 50 young voices will repeat the performance Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. and Thursday at 8 p.m. Directors for the play are Rhonda Cundy and Honey Lou Dixon; Roberta Krueger is general production manager. hold eight cards rather than some stronger suit in which you hold only six or seven cards.

In the hand shown today there is a great difference in strength between South's spades and his hearts. If South had to choose a trump suit he would surely pick hearts.

Fortunately for him, South does not have to make the choice alone. North has a decided preference for spades because he had three spades and only two hearts. When South repeats the hearts to suggest that the suit is much better, North insists on spades.

North's insistence is well founded since South can make four spades very easily but cannot make four hearts unless the opponents roll over and play dead. At spades South wins the first trick with the ace of diamonds and immediately leads his singleton club to try a finesse with dummy's queen. This risk must be taken since otherwise South must lose a diamond and three trumps.

The finesse wins, and declarer immediately cashes the ace of clubs to get rid of his losing diamond. Now he leads a trump, ruffs the diamond return, and leads another trump.

The opponents win and lead another diamond to make declarer ruff again. Declarer cannot afford to lead his last trump. Instead he leads his good hearts, allowing West to ruff in at will. West can take his ace of trumps but nothing else.

South cannot make four hearts even if the six missing trumps break 3-3. He wins the diamond opening, takes the club finesse to get rid of diamond, and gives up a spade. The opponents make him ruff each time he gives up a spade, and South eventually runs out of trumps.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, you respond one notrump and he bids two hearts. You hold S K 8 H 9 6 5 4 D K 9 3 C J 10 6 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. In away sewing with no stop for this situation almost any hand waist seams. Choose broadcloth, with four hearts is worth a raise. Shanting, daron

INVITATION FOR GROOM'S PARENTS

Dear Louise: Should the bride-groom's parents be sent an invitation to their son's wedding? Should a bride-elect have an invitation to a shower being given for her?

Louise Davis answers:

Not really. But think of the added pleasure they would have to receive them as mementos or for their scrap books. Through their get-togethers in the past or through friendly correspondence, such invitations aren't necessary any more than it would be for the bride-groom to get one for his own wedding. So why not let the bride have her shower invitation for the same reason, as a sort of documentary evidence of the gay days before her wedding?

GUEST IN QUANDARY

Dear Louise: When invited to a wedding reception and dinner, is one obligated to include money for the dinner with the gift? Most people of Italian descent in our area do this and I would like to know if it is correct.

Louise Davis answers:

By standards of etiquette in this country, it is not correct. When guests are invited to a dinner or party for any occasion they are not expected to pay their way. It would be considered an insult to the guests and an insult to the host and hostess. Such a procedure is entirely mercenary and is devoid of the graciousness, hospitality and thoughtfulness expected of a host and hostess who are, in your case, the parents of the bride.

Justice of Supreme Court
Marries for Third Time

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Mercedes Douglas plans to marry today — the day after her former husband, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, married a girl 41 years his junior. Mrs. Douglas divorced him six days ago.

After the marriage they posed yesterday — as her husband's briefly for photographers. "We're marriage to a 23-year-old govern- ment girl was making headlines. — Mercedes Douglas came up with some news of her own" — camping-hiking trip at secluded areas of Montana and Washing- ton.

Mrs. Douglas and Eichholz planned to be married at the Beverly Hills home of John B. Metzberg, is 52, handsome and dark haired the western representative of a Chicago-based paper manufactur- ing company. Metzberg is an old friend of Eichholz.

The bridegroom-to-be was once a legal adviser to the Treasury Department. He has been divorced many years and has a daughter and a grown son.

When Mrs. Douglas divorced

William O. Douglas, associate justice of U. S. Supreme Court, 64, is shown with his third wife, Joan Martin, about 25, after their wedding in Buffalo, N. Y., Monday. His marriage yesterday was his third. He was married earlier to the former Mildred Riddle, of La Grange, Ore., who divorced him in 1952 on testimony that he had left her "abandoned and

Mason
Discusses His Divorce

BY RAYMOND E. ALMER
LONDON (AP) — After playing a Greek philosopher in his first epic movie, "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," actor James Mason came home on one of his rare visits and did some philoso- phizing of his own.

He has plenty to be philosphi- cal about.

After 22 years of marriage his wife, Pamela, is suing for di- vorce.

He has to find $5,000 a month to pay her in maintenance pending settlement of their divorce suits.

One Day at a Time

"I don't view the situation with particular dimay," Mason said in his drawing, polished voice. "I'm hoping to make ends meet."

"The thing is not to worry about the future — or the past," he said.

"I'm a day-to-day liver, and I'm by his first wife, to whom he was married 30 years.

The veteran jurist is a noted outdoorsman and traveler, and has written 15 books, most of them on travel-adventure subjects. He and his second wife married 17 months after the first Mrs. Doug- las obtained a divorce. There were no children from this mar- riage.

a fairly happy man. "I have my work — I'm a very busy man — and my friends..."

Mason said he is quite adept at making ends meet. When he first arrived in America litigation with his agent prevented his making movies for 18 months.

He's Done It Before

"I made ends meet by writing stories and articles and making television and radio appearances," said Mason.

He said he liked living in Ameri- ca but found himself being drawn back more and more to Europe, where he says he finds a greater variety of experience at every level of life. He lived in Vevy, Switzerland, with Charlie Chaplin for a neighbor.

Film "Jane Eyre"

One of the things he would like to do is promote and direct a re- make of "Jane Eyre," with him- self in the role of Rochester. He developed a version of the book when he was under contract to 20th Century Fox five years ago and is negotiating with them to buy the property.

Agnes Malone Resigns Post

Was Administrative Assistant in Highway Department Since '45

Miss Agnes Malone, administrative assistant in the Outagamie County Highway Department since 1945, has submitted her resignation. She held this position since it was established by the Bureau of Personnel for civil service employees. The position was a consolidation of the work of secretary and accountant, which she held prior to that time. Miss Malone also served the interim appointment of county highway commissioner after the death of Commissioner John D. Bottenek in 1952. She will go into another field of employment on Sept. 1.

Circuit Court Backs WERB in Employment Dispute in Shawano

MADISON (AP) — A Circuit Court judge upheld Monday the rights of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board to abolish fact-finding boards in municipal employer-employee disputes. Judge John A. Decker upheld the WERB in a decision at Madison. The ruling was in a dispute between Shawano County and its county employees. Shawano County had appealed the WERB ruling that a fact-finding panel appointed by its county board chairman was invalid.

Two Area Plays Show Theater at It's Best

Jingo Hails Directors, Technicians of Attic and Riverside for Their Work

BY JINGO
What a weekend for theatergoers the last one was! Two triumphs within a matter of hours and triumph is the only word that describes the Riverside Players' "Miracle Worker" and the Attic Theater's "Invitation to a March."
There are plays that are actors' shows. Others give the technical designer or the director the spotlight. These two shows are showcases for all parts of the theater; actor, technical people and director.
Except for their successful productions, the two shows couldn't be more different. One is the dramatic retelling of a true story. The other is a modern morality play posing questions of morality and customs in a nearly dreamlike atmosphere.
Although all elements went into making these two shows the successes they were, the men who had the imagination and sensitivity to see and highlight all of the possibilities the playwrights worked into their dramas.

Richard Henkel in working with the moving story of Helen Keller's first step out of the darkness and silence that infantile illness had plunged her, avoided the melodramatic and emotional that weakened other productions of the show — even professional productions.
He was wise enough to recognize the drama of the story itself, needed no theatrical dramatics and his cast was wise enough to follow his lead despite the temptation to "skin a cat."

Baby Slows Down Squad In Combat

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — Combat repeats a story about some soldiers who find a baby in a bombed-out farmhouse. Vic Morrow wants to leave the child but the others won't hear of it. Since the action is in German territory, this little domestic skirmish causes some good suspense.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Lloyd Bridges Show has its stars (Bridges and Gena Rowlands) very well dressed, but the story isn't. The two play unhappy people; he has a fatal illness and she is a playgirl about to leave on a count's yacht.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — It's a grand night for impersonations on Talent Scouts. Host Merv Griffin introduces an exceptionally witty mimic-comic, Dave Frey, who impersonates unusual subjects. And Art Carney does some impersonations while he introduces a young opera singer, Ann Raymond. Other introducers are Monique Van Voren, Van Johnson, Ann Sheridan and Edward Byrne.

8:30-9:30 (Channel 4-5) "Epilogue" the repeat on The Dick Powell Show, is a 60-minute fight for the full hour. Lee Marvin and Richard Montalban play cat-and-mouse: the former is a psychotic killer and the latter a lawyer who taught his foe how to kill in the Marines.

9:10 (Channel 2) — The Keefe Bravette Show builds its skills and songs around the theme of Variety, the show business newspaper, and its various sections.

9:30-10 (Channel 4-5) — Report was one of 13 men named Monday from Hong Kong Macau is a book by the state Board of Account. at two of the Orient's most important as having successfully convincing cities. Britain's Hong Kong examinations conducted in Hong and Portugal's Macau use May to become certified public accountants.

Studies Will Serve to Guide '65 Legislature

Reorganization of State Government
May be in Offing

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Hints that there may be moves for a reorganization of the state government and a rewriting of the Wisconsin election laws were given when the legislature before its adjournment directed the joint legislative council to launch an ambitious series of studies for the guidance of the 1965 legislative session.

Individual legislators and private critics in recent years have called for renovation of the administrative structure of the state government and for modernization of the election laws including those regulating campaign financing and promotion activities by parties, candidates and personal and party committees.

Majority Leader
Sen. Robert P. Knowles of New Richmond, Republican majority leader of the state senate, was named chairman of the Council at a recent organization meeting. The Council has a paid professional staff and during the last decade has won a considerable acceptance from rank and file legislature for its reports and recommendations.

The legislature has referred to it several other major problem areas for review, including the demands of the larger cities of Wisconsin for laws that are more flexible in dealing with the problems of urban growth, the emerging problem of training for capital needs of the rapidly expanding Medical Center at the University of Wisconsin, and the proposals from the urban sections of the state for a reform of county board organization through the authorization of supervisor district based on population requirements.

Optimists, Kiwanians

For Boat Ride

The Appleton Lions Club toured new facilities of Outagamie County Bank Monday noon, following a catered luncheon there.

Jay Reed and Edward Deschler, outdoor editor and staff photographer of the Post-Crescent, narrated a movie of their fishing trip in Canada earlier this summer at the Monday meeting of the Noon Optimists Club.

The Appleton Breakfast Optimist Club saw the movie, "Sports Highlights of 1962," supplied by the Post-Crescent, this morning.

The Appleton Downtown Kiwanis Club is planning a boat ride Wednesday evening. Members will leave from Fremont at 5 p.m. and return at 10 p.m.

Club members Arnold Evans, lieutenant governor, and William Selle, vice president, will discuss highlights of the Kiwanis International convention in Atlantic City, N.J., at the meeting Wednesday noon.

Menasha Woman Hurt When She Leaps From Moving Motorcycle

A Menasha woman received injuries and was treated at an Appleton hospital when she leaped from a motorcycle on Walter Avenue at Newberry Street Sunday.

Treated for hand and leg cuts and an ankle sprain was Judy A. Miskowiak, 20, 644 Paris St. Menasha. She was a passenger on the cycle driven west on Walter Avenue by James R. Miskowiak, 20, 644 Paris St. Menasha.

Miskowiak said the rear wheel locked and both riders jumped off. The cycle hit a curb and flew 33 feet in the air.

Boys Find Stealing Not 'Easiest' Way

Two boys, 6 and 7 years of age, whom police questioned about theft of cigarettes from a car glove compartment, told police their father "told them to go out and get some smokes." Both boys said stealing them seemed the easiest solution.

Police questioned the father who said he and his family are on city relief. He gets $36 per month and his wife receives $200, he said. Asked about the cigarettes, the father said he has not been able to control the boys and that the whole family is turned against him.

Police have asked the city welfare department to conduct an investigation into the complaint.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

DO WE NEED MORE RECREATION? YES ☐ NO ☐

No. It is true that we will probably get more and more leisure time. But "fun" is not enough to give us what we need most—meaning for life. What we all need are jobs, perhaps on a volunteer basis, to supplement the work whereby we earn our living. Recreation has, of course, a real and proper place in life. But too often it is an escape, a way of relieving boredom, not for enriching life. Perhaps we need a new concept of recreation!

Will worry make you forget unpleasantness? Yes—

No—

Yes, say some psychologists. Anxiety and worry may cause you to drive unpleasant facts from your conscious memories. This is called repression. But facts thus driven from the memory are not your own personality. They continue to exist in your subconscious mind, usually in disguised forms where they can cause plenty of trouble. The only real solution is to get these disturbing facts out in the open where you can see what they are and deal with them.

For a more detailed analysis of this question, send for the booklet, "Tensions and How to Master Them." A copy's yours for 25 cents and your name and address sent to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of the Post-Crescent.

Italian Fascist Rally Ends in Free-for-All

ROME (AP) — Italy's Fascist party ended a three-day national congress Sunday night with black eyes and split ranks.

A fist-swinging free-for-all that broke out when young members jeered a speaker sent two delegates to the hospital and left scores of others with shiners.

Then a group of delegates walked out and set up its own meeting in an adjacent room to dramatize their disagreement with Arturo Michelini, party secretary general, who favors achievement of party aims within the framework of the current parliamentary framework of government.

Almirante's followers claim this won't work.

Negro Radicals Popular

BY JUNIUS GRIFFIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Voices of moderation in Northern and Southern Negro communities are muffled. In vogue is a Negro militancy, conceived in frustration and impatience. Radical organizations preaching inflammatory tactics have emerged in ghettos where most Northern Negroes live. In the South, the militant leadership seeks to organize largely undisciplined would-be followers into concerted action. If the moderate Negro in the South or North speaks against demonstrations that might result in violence, he often is branded an "Uncle Tom" and a coward. For a Negro to express a moderate view on any civil rights issue is to risk his reputation and perhaps his personal safety. An example of the radicals' vehemence was evident in Chicago when James H. Meredith and the Rev. J. H. Jackson, president of

A new Negro militancy is apparent as voices of responsible moderates are drowned out by radicals who preach an inflammatory approach to racial equality. Here is a closeup of the militant Negro movement. Seventh in a special Associated Press series on the racial crisis.

A Negro Baptist convention, counseled a conservative course at the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Risked His Life Meredith, who risked his life and the safety of his family to establish the right of a Negro to attend the University of Mississippi, was attacked by a youthful wing of the NAACP with such bitterness that he admitted publicly "I wept my first tears since I was a child."

Jackson, head of the largest Negro religious organization in the nation, narrowly escaped injury before being escorted from the convention.

Sam Riley, Chicago chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality resigned his post, saying, "I'm sick of sit-ins and picket lines."

Riley's resignation came in protest against what he termed the "ultra-militant tactics of the kids" in the organization. "I prefer to plan and negotiate," Riley said. It was militant civil rights demonstrations in Cambridge, Md., during June and July that split the Eastern Shore town and then brought it back together when violent racial conflict threatened. The Cambridge demonstrations caused President Kennedy to comment:

"I am concerned about these demonstrations. I think they go beyond information, beyond protest, and they get into a very bad situation when you get violence, and I think the cause of advancing equal opportunities only loses. So I have warned against demonstrations which could lead to bloodshed, and I warn now against them."

The President added, however, "You just can't tell people, 'don't protest'—but on the other hand, we're not going to let you come into a store or restaurant."

"The way to make the problem go away," the President said, "is to provide for redress of grievances."

Moved North • A militancy similar to that in Cambridge moved north to Brooklyn where Negro ministers gathered their congregations from the ghettos of Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, described as a "wasteland in the heart of New York."

The militant Negro ministers vowed to lead their entire congregations to jail, if necessary, in pressing their demand for more jobs for Negroes and Puerto Ricans on publicly financed construction projects.

The Christian Century, a liberal nondenominational Protestant weekly published in Chicago, has attacked both "bigots" and extremists in the racial revolution.

The magazine said "bigotry remains bigotry however much it changes its color, and bigotry is particularly tempting to the absolutist, white or Negro."

"It is pure bigotry to say, as some engaged in the racial struggle now do, that if one is not a Tom Paine in the racial battle he is necessarily an Uncle Tom."

The magazine said that the current racial revolution needed its Tom Paines as did the American Revolution, but they were seldom able to make the benefits of revolutions permanent.

In Savannah, Ga., where National Guardsmen were summoned to quell racial demonstrations, Dr. William Payne, president of Savannah State College for Negroes, refused to make public statements on the situation. The city's Negro community branded him an "Uncle Tom."

In Charlotte, N.C., where the city government has made strides on the civil rights front, a leading Negro physician, Dr. Emery L. Rann, became an "Uncle Tom" for suggesting that racial demonstrations end and that "Negro leaders negotiate their grievances with the city fathers."

Big Four The influence of the radicals is apparent in the attack on "the big four" action groups for equal rights. This attack is led by radical organizations such as the port of Malcolm X, Harlem's Black Muslims and a variety of African nationalist associations.

These organizations have attracted larger gatherings on Harlem street corners on occasion than the combined forces of the NAACP, the Congress of Racial Equality, the southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

The success of radical elements in Negro communities is due partly to their ability to identify with grass-roots elements. Dr. Martin Luther King, at a recent public appearance in Harlem, was greeted with a barrage of eggs from Negroes before he entered a church.

King, and leaders of the other "big four" groups are constantly referred to as "Uncle Toms" by the radical leadership in Harlem. One radical explains the popularity of the extremist movement:

Forgotten Man "We give the forgotten man a dignity that the NAACP, CORE and the other groups deny him. We let him know that he is just as important as the middle-class Negro who wants to ignore his presence in the community."

This "forgotten man," the radical leader says, "is bitter and ready to fight somebody. If he wants to fight, he might as well join an organization that will guide him in the right direction."

For the African nationalist, the "right direction" is back to Africa. Most Negro leaders do not share the idea that Negroes will support organizations that preach a "back to Africa" movement.

But some NAACP officials acknowledge that the nationalists are a thorn in the side for conservative leaders.

NAACP membership is about 4,000 in Harlem, a community of more than a half million Negroes. Most members pay dues and carry membership cards but do not attend meetings.

Who leads the community and pulls the strings?

Powell Exercises Control Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., exercises control of a large element from the pulpit of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, the Harlem Democratic Club and a variety of civic organizations of which he is sponsor.

The Harlem Democrat attacks the presence of white men in positions of authority in the "big four" civil rights organizations and recently has been vocal in his support of Malcolm X, Harlem's Black Muslim leader.

Malcolm X attracts thousands with tirades against the white man. But Negroes more often than not leave his rallies without having found solutions to their problems.

A young Negro leaving a Muslim rally commented: "I dig this cat. But I am not about to become a Black Muslim."

I've never been to Africa and don't want to go. I don't care for his religion. What I need is a job so I can make some bread (money)."

About 13 per cent of Harlem's labor force is unemployed. This represents more than twice the percentage for the city of New York at large.

Asked if he had sought employment through the Urban League and other organizations, the young man replied: "I don't even know where their offices are."

At least 50 others on Harlem street corners, in poolrooms, taverns and restaurants did not know where the NAACP, CORE or Urban League offices were.

Many volunteered "I don't know and I don't care."

Told of this condition, Paul Zucker, a Harlem lawyer who recently retired from active civil rights work, said "The only solution to this problem is for all four civil rights organizations to untie and present a solid front."

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said recently "the other organizations furnish the noise and get the publicity while the NAACP furnishes the manpower and pays the bills. A good many things have not been made known to our membership. They have come to believe that we are standing on the sidelines working up legal cases while everybody else is participating in non-violent direct action. We don't like to have people talking about us as if we were old and sitting in the corner rights progress through bi-racial consultation and cooperation.

Whitney Young Jr., Urban League director, said "I do not see why I should have to go to long hot summer demonstrations are going to be a civil problem. Our job is to channelize them constructively."

To a great extent, the frictions among these major groups offer no real threat to Negro solidarity on fundamental aims. Young said "We are sym-thetic to the methods of the other organizations. There are temporary misunderstandings and overlapping, but that's to be expected."

The Chinese Communist Party (the KCP, or Kung Chan Tang) was born in 1920. It was wholly a creature of Moscow, dominated by the famed Mikhail Borodin, agent of Stalin's Comintern, and a man named Nguyen Than — later known as Ho Chi Minh, the Red master of North Viet Nam.

In 1927, the Chinese announced discovery of a deep plot to deliver China into Communist hands. Chiang broke relations with Moscow, sent Borodin packing and purged Communists from the Kuomintang.

Soviet troops mobilized near the Chinese border, occupied several Chinese towns, and made threatening gestures. Still weak, Chiang capitulated.

Revolt Stirs Party

Revolt against the Soviet Communist stirred inside the Chinese party.

Pro-Moscow elements tried to seize the party. Stalin ordered

And by 1949 Mao was strong enough to defy the Russians. Mao moved against Moscow's puppets. He threw out Wang Ming and other pro-Soviet elements.

Double Crossed

Stalin was angry. He told a Yugoslav Communist leader at the time he had ordered the Chinese comrades to give up their insurrection because it had no prospects. He seemed to feel Chinese Communists had double-crossed him.

But the Chinese Communists pushed on to victory in late 1949. Stalin summoned Mao to Moscow to sign a mutual assistance treaty. Mao was obliged, among other things, to recognize the final separation of Outer Mongolia — first a Czarist then a Soviet satellite — from China. This has rankled ever since in the Red Chinese breast.

The Korean War and Chinese intervention in it brought clear indications of new Chinese-Soviet strains over influence in Asia. The strains persisted after Stalin's death.

Early in 1956, Khrushchev, in a speech to the 20th Soviet Communist Party Congress, blasted the image of Stalin and sent a violent shock wave through the Communist world.

Chinese Frightened

Hungary revolted. This turn of events startled and frightened the Red Chinese. Events like that could do irreparable damage to the whole world Communist movement and thus even spell danger to the Peking regime.

For a time, Peking and Moscow moved closer together in the face of a common danger.

But once the danger seemed past, the bickering began all over again.

This time the bickering was destined to become a scrap over who — Mao or Khrushchev — should wield the greater influence.

First-Year Players To Get Thorough Test, Says Vince

Lombardi Praises Work of Defensive End Aldridge

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY—The Packers first-year men will get a good test along the non-league trail.

Coach Vince Lombardi put it this way after Monday practice: "Win or lose, we're going to use our first year men a lot in those games. We've just got to get a look at them. Our big problem is going to be finding spots for them."

The coach said he liked the play of the big new defensive end, Lionel Aldridge, exclaiming with a smile, "He's faster than Willie Davis."

The Packers have five non-league games to test the newcomers and sharpen their appetite for what they hope will be a third straight championship.

Fresh from a 20-17 loss to the All Stars, Lombardi recalled another year and team: "I can remember when I was with the Giants in 1956, we lost all five exhibition games and then tied Cleveland for the division title and won it in a playoff."

Vince added with a laugh, "Don't make that sound like I'm going to lose the next five. I'm not."

The Packers have 11 rookies, six on the defense (linebackers Ed Holler and Dave Robinson, line men Tony Liscio and Aldridge, and backs Gary Kroner and Chuck Morris, and five on offense (quarterback Jerry Zaugg, center Bob Ames, ends Jan Barnett and Marv Fleming and guard-tackle Dan Grimm.)

In addition, there are three "strangers"—who have had no experience—Urban Henry, defensive end; Frank Mestnik, fullback; and Bob Jeter, flanker back.

The three All-Star players—Robinson Liscio and Morris—reported for their first practice Monday. Robinson, who led the charge on the Packers' offense in the star game, was installed at left linebacker. Morris started at right safety and Liscio was at right defensive end.

Jordan at End

In fact, Hank Jordan, always on a tackle, even tried his hand at the defensive end spot while Henry lined up at tackle on occasion.

All three of the 'star players, possess good speed—especially Robinson and Liscio who move around in a hurry for big men. Tony packs around 245. Robinson 235. Morris also is a swift and intercepted a pass that popped out of a receiver's arms during a pass-play drill.

Ray Nitschke, who missed the All-Star game with a back injury, and Jim Taylor, who played with a bad leg, were both getting around well Monday. Nitschke expects to work in gradually. "The big linebaker was in traction most of last week."

Taylor said "it was like trying to run without a second effort" against the All-Stars. "The strength isn't back yet. It gave me trouble trying to cut," Jim said.

McCovey Selected as 'Player of Month'

CINCINNATI (AP)—His 13 home runs and 27 runs batted in during July earned Willie McCovey a citation as the National League's Player of the Month.

The San Francisco outfielder got 27 votes in the monthly poll of a committee of baseball writers and sportscasters. His nearest competitors, pitchers Johnny Podres of Los Angeles and Jim Maloney of Cincinnati, received 10 and 6 votes, respectively.

Three other players received votes in the poll whose results were announced Monday. Chicago Cubs pitcher Dick Ellsworth and outfielder Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia were named on two ball. Notable victory before starter Don Adams was named on two ball. Cardinals received one vote.

LAKE FOREST III (AP)—Vanderbilt quarterback Sam Etchevery was released Monday by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Head coach Wally Lemm said the 22-year-old Etchevery, one time star at the University of Denver, was released at his own request.

If he is not picked up on waivers by another National Football League team within 48 hours he will become a free agent.

Etchevery was with the Cardinals in 1961 and 1962 after nine seasons of Canadian football with Montreal. He started the first four games last year then was benched. Charley Johnson took the quarterback spot.

"I feel that I have at least two good years of football left. Etchevery said. "I don't know where I'll go, but I want to play."

Colts Spoil Giants' Hopes Of Gaining Ground in Race

Warwick's Ninth-Inning Single Drives Home Winning Run

BY BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of the year some of the lesser knowns decide to turn spoiler.

For example, take Woodeshick and Warwick, which may sound like a vaudeville team but who amuse the San Francisco Giants not at all.

In fact, there was nothing but gloom in the Giant dressing room after the Colts' Hal Woodeshick and Carl Warwick finished their act in Houston Monday night.

It wasn't a standard performance. Each did something he either didn't want to do or wasn't expected to do. But when it was all over, they were the key figures in a 6-5 victory over the Giants in the only game scheduled in the major leagues.

Woodeshick, a relief pitcher, gave up a home run to Willie Mays, which is something relief pitchers don't like to do. But he came out of it the winner.

And Warwick, a light-hitting outfielder, was inserted in the line-up for defensive purposes in the eighth when Houston had a 4-2 lead. But he wound up the offensive star, driving in the winning run with a two-out single in the ninth when the Colts struggled from behind a 5-4 deficit.

The loss spoiled the Giants' hopes of making up a little ground on National League leading Los Angeles, and dropped them back to a tie for second with St. Louis, five games off the pace.

Johnny Temple's two-run double in the seventh had given the Colts a 4-2 lead and they appeared to be on the way to an outfielder Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia were named on two ball. Notable victory before starter Don Adams was named on two ball. Cardinals received one vote.

Willie McCovey led off with his 13th homer of the season and Mays followed with a single. Woodeshick came on, making his 39th appearance of the season. A single by Orlando Cepeda and a Colt error let in the tying run, but Woodeshick struck out the last two men to end the inning.

He struck out two more in the top of the ninth before Mays crashed his 28th homer into the left centerfield stands for a 5-4 Giant lead.

But the Colts rallied in their

Oshkosh, Kenosha Will Duel Tonight

Other Legion Tourney '9s' Eliminated

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Those Oshkosh American Legion baseball team "cats" lived (two more of their nine lives Monday as they survived as the lone challenger of Kenosha for the 1963 Wisconsin state American Legion Baseball tournament championship.

Oshkosh, which got into the tournament by coming back from an opening loss to Sheboygan in the next two games, now faces the same task against Kenosha, which is unbeaten in three state tournament starts.

The two teams meet tonight (at 8 p.m.) at Goodland Field. A Kenosha victory would give it the crown, but an Oshkosh win would prolong the tourney another day.

Battle From Behind
The challengers battled from behind twice in Monday's action. They were nearly "dead" as the ninth inning of the afternoon tilt approached but came up with five runs and eliminated Marshfield, 6-4.

In the evening, Oshkosh trailed by a 1-0 count going into the bottom of the sixth but scored the tying marker and finally won in the bottom of the 11th frame on a triple by Roger Beck and single by Dennis Neitzel.

Kenosha took over the lead in the fifth inning and defeated Beloit, 8-5, in the second afternoon tilt.

In winning the 11-inning marathon, Oshkosh used what it had left of the 12-inning limit for pitchers Larry Kopitz and Chuck Paul.

Kopitz hurled six innings of shutout ball Saturday and had to be called in to snuff out a Marshfield rally in the eighth inning of the afternoon game. The Oshkosh hurler arrived on the scene with the bases jammed and two out. He worked the count to 3-2 and whipped four strikes to the plate but Chuck Koch managed a piece of all of them.

Makes Putout
Finally, he didn't get enough of one and popped it high to the right of the plate with Kopitz, hustling in to make the putout himself.

The muscular right hander started against Beloit and used up his remaining distance and was required to leave the moved to right field, third base and center and continued to bat in the

Foxes' Paul Campbell Hurls 3-Hitter, Drives Home Winning Tally

Wins, 2-1, Over Cedar Rapids' Jethroe McIntyre

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—Paul Campbell slashed a 2-out single in the eighth inning to drive in the deciding run as the Fox Cities Foxes edged Cedar Rapids, 2-1, in a Midwest League encounter here Monday night.

Campbell hurled a brilliant 3-hitter. The lone Cedar Rapids run in the fifth inning was unearned. Campbell walked only one batter and set 10 down on strikes.

The victory moved the Foxes to within one game of the 500 mark and kept them 5 1/2 games behind league leading Clinton.

Tonight, the Foxes and Cedar Rapids will continue their series with another single game.

Peters on Third
Campbell's game-winning hit came with Rex Peters on third base. With one out in the inning, Ted Richardson was safe at second on an error. Richardson then was thrown out trying to go to third on a grounder by Peters.

Peters was safe at first on the play and George Farson came through with a single to send Peters to third. Campbell followed with his hit.

The Foxes took the lead in the top of the fifth. Ron Stone doubled. Dave May and Bill Grim drew walks to load the bases, and Chuck Embrey was hit by a pitch to force the run across.

Cedar Rapids came back with a run in the last of the fifth when Al Cosgrove walked, Jake Martinez grounded to the pitcher and the throw to second was dropped for an error. Howard Miligan singled to score the run and a double play ended the threat.

The victory was Campbell's fifth against eight losses. Jethroe McIntyre was the loser for Cedar Rapids. McIntyre allowed eight hits, including two each by Stone and Farson.

LSC Wins 7 Events but Loses Crown

Neuman, Zeumer Score Two Victories Each

The Lawrence Swim Club won seven of 15 events but relinquished its women's state AAU championship over the weekend at Gordon Park, Milwaukee.

The Green Bay team took only three firsts, but superior depth enabled it to edge out the LSC, 132-127. It was strictly a 2-team show, as the other six entries finished anywhere from 99 to 120 points behind.

It marked the first time since 1959 — when the LSC also finished second — that the Appleton representatives failed to win the title.

Candy Neuman and Nancy Zeumer sparked the LSC performance with double victories and also swam on the relay team, which was triumphant twice in the 2-day meet. Germaine Herrbold took the remaining LSC first.

Breaks 2 Records

Miss Neuman smashed meet records in both the 100- and 200-meter breaststroke. In the 100-meters, she was clocked in 1:30.1, breaking her own record of 1:33.5, set in '62. Miss Neuman swam the 200-meter breaststroke in 3:18.9, breaking the 4-year-old record of 3:20.3.

Robin Boeder, who swam without affiliation, set records in the 200-meter backstroke and the 400-meter individual medley. She won the latter in 6:39.8, bettering the record of 6:52 set by LSC's Jane Dillon in 1961. Miss Neuman finished third in that event Sunday.

Miss Boeder swam the 200 backstroke in 3:00.8. LSC's Daneta Downie and Nancy Jayne were fourth and fifth, respectively.

LSC's Miss Zeumer won the 100-meter butterfly in 1:26.9 and the 200-meter butterfly in 3:24.1. Teammates Renee Wessenberg and Lynn Stacker were third and fifth, respectively.

Two of Miss Zeumer's records were broken as she chased Sheboygan's D. Garton to new standards. Miss Garton won the 100-meter freestyle in 1:10.7 — bettering Miss Zeumer's 1:10.8 mark of '62. Miss Zeumer, Miss Herrbold and Miss Downie were second, third and fifth, respectively.

In the 200-meter freestyle, Miss Garton posted a mark of 2:36.6, breaking runnerup Miss Zeumer's record of 2:37.6. Miss Herrbold finished third.

The Downie-Neuman-Zeumer-Herrbold combination won both 400-meter relays for LSC. They swam the freestyle in 5:10.3 and the medley relay in 5:43.4.

Miss Herrbold swept the 400-meter freestyle in 6:07.4. She also finished third in the 1,500-meter freestyle, won in 24:04.4 by Green Bay's M. Broyna.

Miss Downie placed second to triple winner Robin Boeder in the 100-meter backstroke, with LSC's Nancy Jayne fifth. Miss Downie and Miss Neuman placed third and fourth, respectively, to triple winner Garton in the 200-meter individual medley.

LSC's L. B. Row played third in the 100-meter diving event. Miss Wessenberg was fifth in the 200-meter breaststroke and sixth in the 100-meter breaststroke.

Hall of Fame's Membership Grows to 94

Rice, Flick, Rixey And Clarkson Are Inducted

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — It was a dark, dreary afternoon, but the brightest day of their lives for two old men.

"This is a bigger day than any I ever had before," said 87-year-old Elmer Flick after he and Sam Rice, 71, and the late Eppa Rixey and John Clarkson were inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame Monday.

The four old ball players, who boosted the Hall's membership to 94, were inducted in ceremonies in front of the Hall under dark.

overcast skies in this quaint, tree-lined village.

The two outfielders and two pitchers were chosen in January by the committee on oldtimers who consider only men out of baseball for at least 20 years.

Members of the Baseball Writers Association, who consider the younger retired players, vote every other year and did not vote in 1963.

Following the morning ceremonies, only a few hundred feet from the Hall at Doubleday Field, the Boston Red Sox beat the Milwaukee Braves 7-3 in the annual Hall of Fame exhibition game.

Pull Into Tie

The victory pulled the American League into a tie in the series, 10-10, with one game a tie.

Rice, of Ashton, Ind., was an outstanding outfielder and hitter for Washington from 1915 to 1933, and finished with Cleveland in 1934. He had 2,978 hits and a lifetime average of .322.

Flick, of Warrensville, Ohio, played from 1898 through 1910 and saw service in both major leagues. He won the American League batting championship in 1905 with a .306 average and retired with a .315 lifetime mark.

Rixey's plaque was accepted by his widow, who lives in Cincinnati, where the lanky left-hander spent most of his major league career. He won 266 games for the Reds and Philadelphia from 1912 to 1933 and died only a few days after his election this year.

Clarkson, a big winner before the turn of the century, once won 33 games in a single season. He died in 1909. His plaque was accepted by a nephew, Frederick Clarkson, of Meriden, Conn.

Rookie Fullback Disappears From Colt Camp Again

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Roy Walker, Baltimore Colt rookie fullback from Purdue, disappeared from the Colt training camp Monday for the second time in two weeks.

The 5-foot-11, 218-pound player again told no one he was leaving, but simply packed his bags and left.

Walker left the National Football League camp the first time July 25 and turned up at his home in North Olmsted, Ohio.

He reported back to camp July 30, but gave no reason for his sudden departure.

Walker played in the Colt intra-squad game in Baltimore Saturday night and team officials said his work was most effective.

Walker has been touted as one of the brightest lights of the rookie crop. Coach Don Shula hoped that his size and power would enable him to break through the rugged pro defensive lines. The Colts have been hurting at this position since the retirement of Van (The Horse) Amoshe.

Three Vie for Batting Trophy; Total Attendance Hits 2,420

Oshkosh officials quickly scurried to plan the strategy for tonight's game. Larry Kopitz can go as many as six innings tonight, while Chuck Paul and Dave Reamer will be limited to three.

The reserve line of hurlers, who did well in brief appearances Monday afternoon against Marshfield, could be called on more extensively. Bill Gogolewski can go as many as 8-2-3 and Lynn Peterson can go 11.

Kenosha is in much better shape as far as pitching is concerned. Ray Schnell and Chuck Lange went the distance in the first two games of the tourney.

Weyauwega — A big third inning produced all of the scoring in a Southern Division, BABA game that Weyauwega took from Greenville, 5-3.

Greenville opened the third with a walk to Schueller. A sacrifice bunt by Paschke set up a score by Schueller when D. Schroeder was safe on a throwing error by the shortstop. Simmons walked, and Becker drove a 2-run single.

Weyauwega came back in its half of the inning with two big blows. Kapititzke was forced by Wangelin after he walked. Grossman and Knoke drilled singles, with Wangelin scoring. Schmidt then powered a double scoring Knoke. Wohlt lofted a home run.

Kapititzke was the winning pitcher. He struck out nine and walked six, allowing only three hits. Fran Schmelzel took the loss. He walked four and struck out five, allowing seven hits.

Weyauwega committed two miscues while the losers played errorless ball.

cleanup position for the rest of the game.

Chuck Paul, who started and went 4-1-3 innings against Marshfield, in the afternoon then came in to continue his limit and was required to leave with one out in the 11th. Dennis Neitzel got the last two men in the second extra frame before singling home the winning run to gain the pitching decision.

Beck led off the 11th with a towering blow to left center and legged it to third for the triple against a stout-hearted Beloit hurler named Jim Burocker. With the outfield playing in, "Dizzy" Neitzel spanked a fly ball over the left fielder's head and the Oshkosh team and fans poured onto the field before the ball had a chance to land.

Used Sparingly

Burocker, who accumulated a 10-0 pitching record for the Beloit Legion last summer, had only a 1-1 mark this season. He was used sparingly because of the success of Frances "Butch" Kressin and Alan Scott and was concentrating on playing center field and batting in the leadoff position.

A reportedly nervous youth prior to the game, Burocker showed little signs of jitters once he took the mound. He gave up an unearned run in the sixth before tiring and losing in the 11th.

Beck's triple was his second hit of the game and earned him team hitting honors with short-

Denver Beats White Sox in Exhibition

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Bears of the Pacific Coast League defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-2 in an exhibition baseball game Monday night.

The Bears moved in front with three runs in the second inning and were never headed.

Manager Al Lopez' team collected 15 hits and was issued six walks, but left 18 men stranded.

Twice the Sox had the bases loaded and failed to score, and in every inning left at least one man stranded.

The Bears rapped Dave DeBusschere, southpaw Taylor Phillips and Ed Fisher for 12 hits, including solo homers by Corky Withrow and Phil Roof.

Only Wade, Ditka Sure Of Jobs, Halas Warns

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — George Halas is cracking the whip over his Chicago Bears on the theory that the modern football player is pretty close to being a pampered athlete.

"We've been too soft," said the Hall of Famer who is owner-coach of the Bears. "We are returning to the 1940 type of discipline."

Halas, starting his 44th year of pro football, didn't waste any time swinging into his new "get tough" policy, designed to make the Bears a top contender for the National Football League title held by the Green Bay Packers.

Incidentally, the Bears open the regular NFL season at Green Bay Sept. 15 and also play the Packers during their five-game pre-season schedule that starts Saturday at Ithaca, N.Y. in a game with the New York Giants.

"The first day the veterans showed up at camp, we scrimmaged them," said Halas. "The rookies scrimmaged three days after they arrived. I haven't heard of anybody being disgruntled."

There is the great white way of Rensselaer," he said.

Halas regards the Packers as the favorites. He calls them "a great ball club" but adds "even great clubs get beat."

"I would rank Chicago and Detroit as contenders but they will be tougher, too. I miss my Brocklin (Dutch Van Brocklin, Minnesota coach) thinks he has something up there. The Rams will be tougher, too. I miss my pigeon, Sid Gilman, since he left."

Halas has been putting in time "modernizing our defense" with the aid of defensive coaches Joe Stydahar and George Allen, who gave up his only earned run in 12 innings of tournament pitching in the second. It was only his second earned run in 80-2-3 innings of pitching this season.

The highly competitive Kopitz Stydahar and George Allen, who gave up his only earned run in 12 innings of tournament pitching in the second. It was only his second earned run in 80-2-3 innings of pitching this season.

Among the rookies, Halas is hopeful that Bob Jencks, a 6-foot-5, 227-pound end from Miami (Ohio) may fit into his club as a split end. Jencks just reported after playing with the winning College All-Stars against the Packers at Chicago last Friday.

If Jencks comes through to pair with Ditka, the right end, the Bears will be formidable at that position.

Sunday's Results:
Black Creek 6, Navarino 1.
Landstad 10, Garson 2.
Bonduel 7, Freedom 6 (10 innings).
Seymour 9, Hofa Park 3.

Seymour remained undefeated in second round play in the Dairyland Baseball League with a 9-3 victory over Hofa Park Sunday afternoon.

Bonduel stayed one game off the pace by edging Freedom, 7-6, in 10 innings and in other games Black Creek downed Navarino, 6-1 and Landstad trounced Garson, 10-3.

In a makeup game Saturday, Garson downed Black Creek, 5-2, in an 11-inning contest. Jim DeWalt went eight innings for Seymour against Hofa Park and allowed only two hits. Chuck Kellogg worked the ninth for the winners. Howard VandenElzen was the starter and loser for Hofa Park. Seymour broke the game open in the fifth with six runs on four hits, one a 3-run double by Fred Haase.

Bonduel came from behind to tie Freedom with three runs in the last of the sixth and won the game with three straight singles after two were out in the 10th. Earl Burkahn drove in the winning marker. Ron Rosenow had a 3-run homer for Bonduel in the sixth and batted in five runs during the game. Rog Polzin was the winning pitcher in relief.

Ken Suehring was the winning hurler for Landstad against Garson as he fired a 5-hitter. He fanned eight and walked three. Lyle Gehm had a 2-run homer for the winners in the sixth and drove in four runs during the game. Suehring retired 15 men in a row at one point.

Don Kettner hurled a 4-hitter for Black Creek in the win over Navarino. He walked three and fanned six batters. Jerry Rohm had a homer in the fifth with none on for the winners.

Craig Breedlove Who drove his jet-powered tricycle 408 miles per hour Monday, poses beside his vehicle. The 26-year-old Los Angeles driver made runs of 388 and 428.37 miles per hour on Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats to establish the new world land speed record. (AP Wirephoto)

Breedlove May Try for Better Speed Record

Thinks Jet-Powered Vehicle Can Go 500 Miles Per Hour

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, (AP) — Craig Breedlove thought today he could go even faster than he did Monday in his jet-powered car when he set a world record of 407.45 miles per hour.

In fact he powered his car "Spirit of America", to 428.37 m.p.h. on the first run. The second run, back over the same course on the western Utah salt flats, was at a 388.47 m.p.h. rate.

His average speed was a record 407.45 m.p.h.

The old mark was 394.196 m.p.h. set on the flats in 1947 by the late Sir John Cobb of England.

Breedlove, a one-time hot rodder from Los Angeles, said he had been after the record ever since he began tinkering with cars when he was 14. That was four years after Cobb set the mark. Breedlove is 26.

But Cobb's car was conventional piston powered. The drive shaft was connected to the wheels.

Like Plane on Wheels
Breedlove's car is more like a jet airplane on wheels. In fact it is powered by a modified J-47 jet airplane engine. The wheels are not turned directly by the engine.

Therefore the record keepers may have to qualify Breedlove's mark, noting the differences. Breedlove thinks his three wheeled vehicle can go 500 m.p.h. and he plans to try for a faster mark sometime this week.

His "Spirit of America" is 35 feet long, 11 feet wide and 10 feet high at the tail fin. It weighs three tons.

HITTING—Carl Warwick, Houston, singled in winning run with two out in the ninth in the Colts' 6-5 edge over San Francisco.

When the Cardinals switched to a right handed pitcher, Banks was lifted for pinch batter Merritt Raney who swings from the left side of the plate.

The following day Banks played in both games of a doubleheader. Then at Milwaukee he started against a right-handed pitcher but has been on the bench since.

When the Cubs closed their series with San Francisco Sunday, Banks was listed in the starting lineup and then yanked shortly before the game began.

No Appearance
Although the crowd of 33,289 kept looking for him in the late stages as a pinch batter, Banks never made an appearance.

Secretly what really hurt the 32-year-old slugger was a maneuver in the bottom of the 10th inning of what turned out to be a 2-1 loss to the Giants.

San Francisco scored an unearned run in the fourth but Ron Santo's home run in the eighth tied the score. Then Willie Mays.

Gary Treeton scored the first Clintonville run in the fourth when he walked, moved to second on Donnie Thompson's single to third on an error and scored on Pete Smith's sacrifice fly.

Treeton opened the Clintonville sixth with a single and Thompson and Bob Korb followed suit. Marshall Conrad and Terry Deere followed with singles to score the runs.

Dave Brandenburg, who retired the first nine batters in order before walking the leadoff batter in the fourth was the loser.

Ernie Banks Plagued With Worst Slump

An Embarrassing Situation

CHICAGO (AP) — Amidst the ranks of the Chicago Cubs an embarrassing situation is beginning to unravel and smack in the middle of it is Ernie Banks.

Banks, one of the great sluggers of the National League in the last decade and the greatest in Cub history, is in the worst slump of his career.

Although he has a career total of 352 home runs and 1,016 runs batted in, Banks is batting a weak .229 compared to a lifetime average of .288.

"I don't know what's wrong," Banks said. "I feel okay. I want to play."

But Banks is not playing and that's part of the embarrassment. A week ago Saturday he was benched while the Cubs faced the St. Louis Cardinals and southpaw Curt Simmons. During the game, Banks was sent up as a pinch batter.

When the Cardinals switched to a right handed pitcher, Banks was lifted for pinch batter Merritt Raney who swings from the left side of the plate.

The following day Banks played in both games of a doubleheader. Then at Milwaukee he started against a right-handed pitcher but has been on the bench since.

who some were writing off as finished earlier in the season smashed his 27th home run in the top of the 10th.

After two were out in the Cub half of the inning, Don Landrum went to the plate as a pinch batter. On deck was another pinch batter—Dick Bertell.

Since Landrum fled out to end the game Bertell never got to the plate. But there were raised eyebrows as to why Banks, who has 17 home runs and 54 runs batted in, was not on the circle instead of Bertell with 2 home runs and 11 RBIs.

"Bertell must have been a decoy," someone suggested to Head Coach Bob Kennedy.

"No," said Kennedy. "I'm giving Banks a rest and intend to follow through with it. I've tried to rest him in other games but he gets in one way or another and winds up playing a lot more than expected."

Is something wrong with Banks?
"No," Banks said after the game. "I feel fine. I'm going for a routine checkup tomorrow but all the players take that and it happens to be my turn."

Now comes the mystery. Shortly after Banks made this statement the Cubs announced that Banks wasn't feeling good and would go to Wesley Memorial Hospital Monday and possibly remain there Tuesday missing the first game of the Los Angeles series.

There are several schools of thought concerning Banks' situation. Some think he might be ailing. Some feel he is a second division player. And then there are those who feel Kennedy has lost confidence in Banks.

U.S. Men's Track Team Completes Sweep by Downing British, 120-91

American Girls Show Improvement But Lose Again

LONDON (AP) — One of the best, and youngest, American track teams split up in all directions today, with important international experience tucked away for the future and four victories in the men's record book.

The Americans also had a world record by pole vaulter John Pennel of Miami, Fla.

Pennel has now snapped the record six times this year, and three times in a little more than three weeks.

He set his latest mark of 16 feet 10 1/4 inches Monday on the final day of the two-day meet with Britain. It broke his own mark of 16-8 1/4 set in the same White City Stadium on July 13 and battered by a fraction of an inch in Warsaw July 26.

Other American runners flurried with records during their four-meet European tour, but only Pennel was successful.

The men got off to a bad start on the trip, and had to battle back to salvage a 119-114 victory over the Soviet Union in Moscow. But then they got rolling and took the Poles 125-83 in Warsaw and West Germany 141-82 before.

but the $100,000 a year slugger is still ailing and still faces the possibility of post-season surgery. Before he and the Yanks set out on the trip that will take them to Washington, Los Angeles, Chicago and Boston, Mantle was asked if he thought surgery would be necessary on his ailing left knee.

Mickey hesitated a moment then replied, "I don't know. It might. I just don't know."

Loose Cartilage
The Yankee slugger has been out of action since breaking a bone in his left foot in Baltimore June 5. It was later discovered that the three-time Most Valuable Player had a loose cartilage in his left knee (the cause of his current trouble and the possible target of post-season surgery).

Man Pleads Guilty To Drunkenness Count

OSHKOSH Thomas Ernst, 23, 1825 N. Clark St., Appleton, was ordered held in the Winnebago County jail without bond to await sentencing Thursday after he pleaded guilty to being too drunk

The scholarship provides exemption from tuition fees for four years if the student maintains a C-plus average, and is applicable to any UW school or college. The recipient need not major in music but must be a member of one of the musical organizations on campus.

More Smith who is a member of the UW School of Music, plans to play in the UW orchestra. She was concert mistress of the Appleton High School orchestra to care for his own safety.

Ernst was arrested by Neenah police Saturday night after they found him lying on a lawn on S. Lake Street.

Rabies Spread Only By a Bite or Infection

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. overweight. Now she is so thin. Dear Dr. Molner: I understand and weak from the loss of 35 that rabies in humans can be pounds that she cannot partici- contracted only by being bitten. pate in any activities. She had What about vegetables planted in soil that may be contaminated by a rabid animal? — E. B.

There are only two known ways in which rabies is spread by a bite, or by the saliva from an infected animal getting into an open wound — a small cut or a scratch.

Rabies is a virus disease and viruses must have a compatible environment in which to live. Thus a rabid animal might temporarily contaminate the soil, but the virus wouldn't survive for long. Neither would it affect vegetables grown in the soil.

Rabies spreads from animal to animal. Once it was thought that only dogs (and sometimes cats) spread the virus. Now we know that many animals can carry it.

In Mexico several years ago I saw cattle infected with rabies by the bites of vampire bats. More recently the so-called domestic bats of temperate zones farther North have been shown to carry rabies. Indeed, bats may well be the "reservoir" of rabies, since they can carry the virus and not die from it.

Skunks, foxes, coyotes — all sorts of animals contract rabies. Once introduced into the system, the virus usually takes from one to two months for incubation, which allows time for the Pasteur treatment or immunization with anti-rabies serum. However, this doesn't mean it is safe to take liberties with the problem. Incubation can develop in as little as 10 days if near the brain (or face) and sometimes the virus remains dormant for six months or more before the disease develops. Hence treatment should be started quickly after a bite from an animal suspected of rabies.

More recently hyper-immune serum has been developed that should be used in severe bites, particularly on the face.

Rash on Hand
Dear Dr. Molner: I'm a farmer's wife. For several years every fall to late spring I have a rash, mostly on my right hand but a little on the left thumb. My doctor advised a skin specialist but as we are some distance from the city, I have found it impossible to consult one. I have tried various creams and salves but the itch stays. Perhaps I should stay away from the farm. How can I get help? — MRS. W. P.

I don't know that you should stay away from the farm, but I do have a suspicion that you should stay away from something or other that you use in the fall and winter. Some time when the rash develops it could be such a simple thing as a dust mop, bucket, or something, or something like that — the paint on a handle, for instance. I've known of such cases. What do you hold in your hands and move with the right hand part of the year but don't use much in summer?

If you want to solve the problem by yourself without the aid of a skin specialist or an allergist, you may find that it is a contact dermatitis — a skin irritation from something you touch.

Dear Dr. Molner: A friend of mine went on a starvation diet last year. She is 36 and was not

Kenosha Youth State's 469th Traffic Victim
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The death of a Kenosha youth, 17, brought Wisconsin's 469th highway toll to 464 compared with 458 a year ago.

Jerry D. Ruff, 18, of Kenosha was killed early today when his car left a curve on Highway 22 on the city's northside.

He was driving a 1961 Chevrolet coupe, which was traveling at 40 m.p.h. when it left the road and rolled over on its side.

out $4,178.661 in loans and grants last year. One-third of this went to $2,215 cases to pay for food, rent, and utilities.

The Navy Relief Society distributed $4,066,570 in 1962, about half going to avert want among Navy men, Marines, their wives and children.

The Air Force Aid Society paid out more than $750,000 between December and May. No breakdown was available of the portion devoted to staying off destitution.

The exact number of Navy men and Marines getting this or some other kind of aid is not known, the Navy said.

The Army said standards set by Washington state are such that about 7 per cent of the 25,000 soldiers stationed there qualify for free food because of low income.

One-Shot Variety
The help furnished by service relief societies is generally of a one-shot variety. For long-term help, the services are banking on a $1.2 billion military pay bill before Congress. It would provide the first military pay boost in five years, but would not provide more money for privates and seamen.

Pentagon leaders headed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara contend the pay situation is damaging morale among the 2.7 million people in the armed forces and driving men with valuable skills out of uniform.

McNamara has termed the pay bill "the highest priority item of defense legislation now before Congress."

Improving of Hungary, U.S. Dealings Discussed
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar and W. Averell Harriman discussed possibilities of improving American-Hungarian relations when the U.S. assistant secretary of state was in Moscow to negotiate the nuclear test ban treaty. Kadar said Monday. Kadar told a Soviet-Hungarian friendship rally "we must realize that the American leaders do not love Hungary's government and leaders more than some years ago, yet sober and realistic policies seem to prevail among them these days."

governments always take never give. They have been plagued by all manner of petty taxes, the money going mostly into politicians' pockets. Much of what the Haitian earns is taxed. The cannibalistic system taxes producers out of existence and smothers enterprise.

Poor Is Resources
Talented people leave the country. It is poor in resources of educated men and women.

Peasants, struggling to stay alive, show little interest in politics. That has left government to the small and often violent groups of educated and semi-educated in the capital, Port au Prince. Over the years these groups turned one government after another.

The current troubles date to December 1956, when an alliance of businessmen, professional men and labor leaders knocked over the dictatorship of Col. Paul Magloire.

Daniel Fignolé, leader of the movement of workers and peasants, became president. He was in office for 18 months. He died in 1961. He was in office for 18 months. He died in 1961.

Reports reaching here and American families were evacuated to Cap-Haitien from the U.S. owned Dauphin Island plantation on the orders of the Duvalier government. The plantation lies near Fort Liberté, about 5 miles west of the Dominican border.

A news source in Port au Prince said Monday night little was known in public there except that a rebel force apparently was fighting the Haitian army in the north. Censors barred correspondents from sending out news by cable.

Gen. Leon Cantave, chief of the Haitian armed forces for five months in 1957, led the invasion under the banner of the National Democratic Union. Cantave told an interviewer recently he was not interested in becoming president, only in ousting Duvalier.

Paul Verna, a former Haitian diplomat representing the National Democratic Union, said an unidentified island off the coast was used as a staging area for the invasion. Some of the invaders were identified as former Haitian army officers who had been living in Santo Domingo.

Verna said the rebels expect to form a military-civilian provisional government in north Haiti. Cantave, a career officer, became chief of the Haitian army in December 1956 after the overthrow of President Paul E. Magloire. He quit on May 25, 1957, to avoid involvement in his country's turbulent politics, and has been in exile for six years.

'Quiet Meal' Ruling Allows Tax Deductions

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Despite all the hullabaloo about the new, stiffer expense account rules, you should have no trouble in deducting the cost of taking your business associates, customers or clients to lunch, dinner, breakfast or cocktails, exactly as before.

This is the so-called "quiet meal" which is officially exempt from the new expense account rules. Two things are required to insure deduction of a quiet business meal.

First, the person whose tab you to substantial amounts for yourself.

One warning: The Treasury doesn't like the "reciprocal" meal game — governed by the unwritten rule that two or more business associates take turns in picking up their daily lunch check so that their lunches are deductible all year long. This is considered an abuse of the quiet business meal rule which the Treasury will try to stop.

Remember This

If you do not go to a "quiet" eating place, you generally can't deduct the cost of the food and drink unless you have an actual business discussion immediately before or after the entertainment.

As I will explain in tomorrow's column, this would be the case if you entertained your business guest with food and drink at a night club, sporting event, large cocktail party or sizable social gathering.

Just remember this. If you and your guest eat at a quiet place, you get a deduction even if you don't talk business. But if you eat at a noisy, distracting place, you generally get a deduction only if you actually talk business immediately before or after the entertainment.

Can you get a "quiet meal" deduction for a meal served to a customer or other business associate at your home? The answer to that is yes, but, and watch the buts.

First, you must make sure that it's as quiet as the restaurant would have been — no entertainers, no dance bands, no huge gatherings.

Second, you must be ready to prove, if a Treasury agent should ask you, that you entertained your guest at home for business, not social reasons.

(Copyright 1963)

Second of Series

pick up must have a business relationship to you which shows that you are entertaining him for business, not social, reasons. For instance, if you show that he is an actual or prospective customer or client, supplier, employee, agent, partner or professional advisor, that will do.

Treasury Examples

A life insurance agent can buy lunch for a client.

A new hotel or theatrical production can wine or dine business representatives and civic leaders.

Second, you must have your meal and drinks in a restaurant, hotel dining room, eating club, cocktail lounge or similar place where there are no noisy or distracting influences such as a floor show. That's where the "quiet" comes from in the quiet business meal rule, and most eating places will meet this test.

Talk About Anything

Once you have this quiet business meal set up, you don't even have to discuss business at the meal in order to deduct the cost.

Let me repeat, you can actually talk about anything other than business and still get your deduction. That's how liberal this rule is. Also, Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Caplin says that you can deduct the full cost of your own meal as well (except when the meals begin to add up

Fog Blankets Most of State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Much of Wisconsin was blanketed by heavy fog early today. La Crosse, Stevens Point, Rhinelander and Madison all reported heavy fog during the early morning hours. Clouds covered the entire state except the extreme northwest at mid-morning today. A few scattered light showers fell in southern Wisconsin Monday, with Lone Rock reporting .17 of an inch.

Temperature maximums Monday were topped by Eau Claire's 85. Other highs ranged down to 77 at Burlington and Beloit.

Superior was the coolest spot during the night with 53, while Burlington reported 62, Green Bay 64, Park Falls, Lone Rock, Milwaukee and Racine 65 and Madison, Beloit, La Crosse, Wausau and Eau Claire 66.

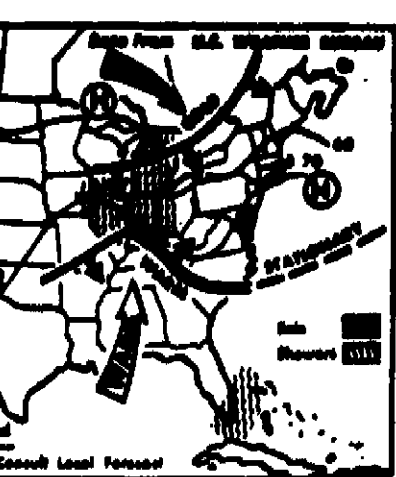

The outlook called for isolated thundershowers today and tonight, and cooler weather for all of Wisconsin by Wednesday.

Needles, Calif., set the national high of 106 degrees Monday, compared with the low of 40 early today at Philipsburg, Pa.

Tipsy Drivers Lose Licenses

Menasha Teen-Ager, Waupaca Man Appear in Courts

A Menasha teen-ager and a Waupaca man have had their driver's licenses revoked for one year after appearing in separate courts on charges of drunken driving.

Donald E. Weber, 17, route 1, Menasha, pleaded guilty of drunken driving and was fined $175 and costs when he appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Gordon W. Leupold, 44, 308 W. Fulton St., Waupaca, was sentenced to 60 days in the Waupaca County Jail on a charge of drunken driving when he couldn't pay a $200 fine imposed Monday by Municipal Justice George Whalen.

Been to Plein

Weber was arrested early Monday morning in the Town of Buchanan by county police. He said he had been to a picnic in Sherwood.

He was taken to the Outagamie County Jail where he was examined by a doctor and where he tested .17 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is evidence of intoxication.

A waiver by Outagamie County Branch 3 Judge Raymond P. Dohr, the county's juvenile court judge, was ruled before Weber was taken before County Judge Gustave Keller.

Railroads, Unions Meeting Today at Bargaining Table

Negotiators Believe They Have Chipped an Opening in Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in weeks, railroad and union representatives face each other today across the bargaining table, a sign that negotiators believe they have chipped an opening in the deadlock over jobs.

"In another 24 to 48 hours, we should know whether we're shadow-boxing or really making progress," J. E. Wolfe, the carriers' chief negotiator, said Monday night.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz called today's joint meetings after lengthy sessions Monday with each side.

He refused, however, to say whether any progress had been made.

Meetings were set up between the carriers and the representatives of the engine crews, engineers and firemen—and between the carriers and the train crew unions—conductors, brakemen and switchmen.

U. S. Sets Up Ambushes for North Koreans

Forces Withdraw At Dawn After Making No Contacts

WITH U. S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea (AP) — A heavy American force set up ambush positions in the demilitarized zone Monday night and withdrew at dawn today without contacting any Communist North Korean troops.

The combat-ready Americans went into position at dusk Monday. They set up three traps for Communist patrols that have been striking into United Nations territory and on occasions launching strong attacks on U.S. units.

The exact number of American troops involved was classified. But the U.S. force is known to have been much larger than the small patrols that normally guard the U.S. sector of the 151-mile truce line established after the Korean War.

North Korean Movements
It is obvious that the U.S. command is determined to stop all North Korean movement—by large Red forces or small units—into what the 1953 armistice agreement termed U.N. territory.

Orders were given that the American force hold its fire until Communist troops moved in close. "We were to use grenades and bring back the meat," one sergeant said.

Armored personnel carriers moved to within a few thousand yards of the demilitarized zone and stood by in the event a fight developed.

The scene was about 13 miles east of Panmunjom near a road junction where two Americans were killed in a North Korean ambush July 29.

2 Men Questioned In Sex Slaying of 8-Year-Old Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—At least two men have been questioned by police in the sex slaying of 8-year-old Diane Taylor, a crime that has detectives scouring an 8-square-mile area on Chicago's West Side.

One man described by neighbors as a child molester was given a lie detector test but police said the results were inconclusive.

Police said the man, who denied any connection with the slaying, had no previous record of sex offenses. However, he was held Monday while detectives verified his alibi.

Diane's body was found Saturday morning in an alley one mile from her home. Her body partly covered by a sheet from a sheet had been dumped beside the garage. She had been raped, slashed and beaten.

Negroes May Try 'Vote-ins' In Mississippi

Officials Watchful As Balloting Begins In State Primary

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Election officials kept an uneasy watch for Negro vote-ins today as an estimated 450,000 Mississippians began voting in the Democratic primary.

Reports circulated that unregistered Negroes would invade the polls despite a ruling by Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson that such a move would be illegal.

The racial tension climaxed a campaign which centered on civil rights and the Kennedy administration. The four gubernatorial candidates, all segregationists, spent most of the campaign emphasizing their opposition to Kennedy racial policies.

The four are:
—Former governor J. P. Coleman, 49, an Ackerman lawyer who headed the state government from 1956-60.

Hattiesburg Lawyer
—Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, 47, a Hattiesburg lawyer making his fourth bid for governor.

Polls opened at 7 a.m. CST and close at 6 p.m.

Only one of 82 counties has voting machines and observers predicted that close races will not be decided until late Wednesday.

Observers predicted a close vote necessitating a runoff Aug. 27. Coleman was expected to face Johnson or Sullivan in the runoff with the Democratic nominee to go against Republican Rufel Phillips and independent Ed Bishop in the Nov. 5 general election.

The winner will succeed Gov. Ross Barnett, prohibited by state law from succeeding himself. Barnett has followed Mississippi custom by taking no public part in the race for a successor.

The vote-in plans reported by Negro sources would be an effort by unregistered persons to cast ballots under a state law permitting those wrongly omitted from poll lists to record their choices by affidavit.

Protest Practices
The vote-in, the sources said, would protest registration practices and procedures. A circular urging unregistered persons to file affidavits was circulated throughout the state.

However, the state attorney general said the law dealt with those who had registered and whose names were left off the poll books by mistake.

Patterson said that election officials had a duty not to let unqualified persons vote.

Mississippi has an estimated 300,000 registered Negroes.

Bible Study Required For Alabama Schools
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Alabama public school children will be required to take a course in the Bible under a ruling of the State Board of Education.

In practice, however, there will be little change, if any, from current Bible-reading requirements. The board's order to put Bible-reading in the required course of study came Monday as a result of a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

The court barred reading of the scriptures and recital of the Lord's Prayer as part of required classroom exercises, but did not rule out reading the Bible as part of the course of study.

Invasion Led by Foes Of Duvalier

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A report circulated today that a band of Haitian exile invaders aiming to topple the terrorist regime of dictator Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier have captured Cap-Haitien, Haiti's second largest city. The report was unconfirmed.

Cap-Haitien, a port city of 25,000, is 90 miles north of Port au Prince, Haiti's capital. Duvalier, the voodoo-preaching physician turned strongman, acknowledged Monday night there was an invasion on Haiti's north coast. The Dominican frontier forces

Meeting Called by NAACP to Decide Legislative Steps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro leaders and white sympathizers gathered today for a strategy conference designed to assure passage of civil rights legislation.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called the three-day meeting of several hundred persons from around the country to:

1. Enable them to meet with their members of Congress and stress their desire for "meaningful civil rights legislation"
2. Plan "continuous grass roots activity" in the states to build popular sentiment for the legislation and convey this sentiment to Congress.

Among those listed to speak at the sessions were several Congress members and churchmen of Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths.

The sessions are distinct from the big "march for jobs and freedom" which six civil rights organizations, including the NAACP, are planning for Aug. 28.

In this demonstration, an estimated 100,000 to 250,000 Negroes and Whites are to gather near the Washington Monument and march to the Lincoln Memorial.

NATO Must Okay Nonaggression Pact

U. S., British Negotiators in Moscow Say Treaty Requires Approval of Western Powers

MOSCOW (AP)—American and British foreign policy chiefs told the Russians today negotiations on Premier Khrushchev's proposal for an East-West nonaggression pact will have to wait until the signing Monday of the partial nuclear test ban agreement.

Conference informants said Gromyko insisted that the three powers get to work on the nonaggression treaty, which Khrushchev originally proposed should be signed at the same time as the nuclear test ban treaty.

Meeting of NATO
The Russians, however, had agreed to conclude the test ban agreement first and give the allies within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization time to talk over the nonaggression pact among themselves.

Rusk was said to have told Gromyko that he could go no further on this subject until the NATO discussions are completed.

A crowd of about 500 applauded the Big Three foreign ministers.

160 Years of Woe

Haiti — 'Land of Troubles'

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Special Correspondent

Haiti in Indian means Land of Hills. It should be called Land of Troubles. During the 160-year history of its independent existence it has known little but woe.

Haiti has been ruled by kings, emperors, presidents and dictators. Nearly all came to violent ends. Only six presidents ended their terms normally.

A country of 4 million the size of Maryland, Haiti is important because of its geography. If the Caribbean is the Western Hemisphere's Mediterranean, Haiti is its potential Gibraltar.

The nation shares Hispaniola Island with the Dominican Republic. On its northwest corner is Mole St. Nicolas where Columbus landed in 1492. From there it is 50 miles across the Windward Passage, a narrow shipping channel to Cuba. During World War II a handful of Nazi submarines bottled up the passage. If Haiti were in Castro-Communist hands, the Soviet bloc would have a formidable position astride the northern tier of the Antilles.

Descended From Slaves
Ceded by Spain to France in 1807, Haiti has known no rest since the French were driven out at the beginning of the 19th Century. Its indigenous Indians had been exterminated and its population today is descended from African slaves.

A series of emperors, kings and presidents ruled the country until 1859 when the republic was restored. Meanwhile in 1844, Santo Domingo proclaimed independence and Haiti was confined to the western third of Hispaniola.

Abraham Lincoln is said to have used Haiti in 1863 to dramatize his Emancipation Proclamation choosing a Haitian national holiday as the date. His inspiration was supposed to have been a Haitian named William de Fleurville, Lincoln's barber.

But the United States showed little further interest in Haiti until World War I. In 1915, after prolonged Haitian violence, U. S. marines landed. The occupation lasted until 1934. Even today some old peasants believe the U. S. Marines still run things.

Extreme Poverty
Haiti's basic trouble is the extreme poverty of the Negro majority, coupled with their conflicts with the better educated mulatto majority. About 90 per cent of the people cannot read or write. The nation's mountains make its habitable areas the most densely populated in the Western Hemisphere. There is a grievous lack of roads and other means of communication.

Coffee and some sugar are the basis of the economy, which has only a small amount of light industry.

Haitians have an intense sense of living for today. In market places one still can see women shop for salt or tomato sauce by the spoonful.

"If work was good," says the Haitian peasant, "among the hemisphere's poorest, the rich would have taken all of it."

Most Haitians feel with good reason that

Canning Firm Files Injunction Against Fertilizer Company

NEW LONDON — Construction on a cell service center by the Farmers Union Exchange on Green Bay and Western Railway property at the end of Avon Street was halted Monday when Hamilton and Sons Canning Co. filed an injunction with the city clerk. An appeal was filed earlier before construction started but was declared void by Francis A. Warner, attorney for the canning company. Warner said at that time the proper form was not being used and the appeal was signed by the city building inspector, which also was improper.

Hamilton and Sons Canning Co. is appealing the decision of Walter J. Schoenrock, city building inspector, on granting a building permit to Farmers Union Exchange, Inc., to build a bulk fertilizer blending plant.

Four Reasons
Schoenrock granted the permit for the blending plant July 12 after inspecting a similar plant operated by Farmers Union Exchange at Valders.

After being notified of the appeal Monday, the construction foreman of the Minnesota firm building the plant said work would be halted at the end of the work day.

The appeal listed four reasons why the blending plant should not be built at its present site.

Would Mean Loss
1. It will result in contamination of the food products manufactured by Hamilton. (The Hamilton plant produces pickles and is located on adjoining property).

2. If built, it will result in economic loss to Hamilton and Sons and the City of New London. 3. It is contrary to provisions of the New London zoning ordinance.

4. That the unwarranted granting of the permit by the building inspector, without the approval of the board of appeals, is contrary to the spirit and intent of the New London Zoning ordinance.

Decision Expected
Mayor Wilmer Schlafer said the board of appeals is expected to meet sometime this week to reach a decision on the construction of the blending plant at its present site.

Officials of the Farmers Union Exchange claimed earlier that the plant did not violate any city zoning laws which prohibit the construction of a plant which manufactures fertilizers. Farmers Union said the plant would not be used to manufacture fertilizer but would be a blending plant only. Fertilizer would arrive at the plant in bulk form and would then be mixed to fit individual farmer's needs.

Building Boom In Appleton Continues

$2,211,645 in New Work Reported For Month of July

Appleton's phenomenal building boom continued to gain momentum during July with $2,211,645 in new construction reported.

There are indicators — based on residential, commercial and industrial construction projects — that an all-time building record may be established here by the end of the year.

City Building Inspector Charles Magnette said that since Jan. 1 permits have been issued for construction with an estimated value of $7,682,244, compared to the first eight-month period in 1962 when permits were issued for $4,908,795 worth of projects.

Top 1961 Total
Building in Appleton and the Fox Cities shows no sign of letting up, according to Magnette, who authorized permits for several hundred thousand dollars in new construction the first few days in August.

Contractors say Appleton is one of the busiest building hubs in the state outside of Milwaukee and Madison.

With five months to go, Appleton already has shattered its 1961 year long construction total of $7,036,169.

Unless there is a sudden dip in local building activity—and there appears to be no indication of it—last year's building total of $9,563,373 (the second highest in the city's history) should be surpassed.

Residential construction continued to set a swift pace last month with 16 new homes started with a value of more than $250,000.

Other Permits
However, the biggest single construction project for which the city issued a permit was the $770,000 Lawrence College expansion. Work has started on the construction of the new Youngchild.

Delavan Lake Sailor Garners First Place In Class X Regatta

Doug Cameron Accumulates 2,625 Points; NNYC Skippers Far Down in Standings

NEENAH — Mighty High I, sailed by Doug Cameron of Delavan Lake Yacht Club, placed first in the abbreviated ILYA class X championship regatta which concluded here Sunday.

Wind — too much on Friday — the opening day, and not enough on Sunday — sheared the regatta to three races, all on Saturday. Under ILYA rules, three sailings on a day are necessary to constitute an official regatta.

High winds Friday morning and storm warnings in the afternoon wiped out Friday's two races. The boats were on the course Sunday morning but were called off when it became apparent that there wasn't enough wind to complete the race.

Cameron, who became the first Delavan Lake skipper to win the championship in 21 years, garnered firsts in the first and third races and picked up a fifth place in the second to finish with 2,625 points, 111 more than runner-up Bill Allen of Minnetonka. Minn. Yacht Club Allen had 2,514 on a second, third and fourth.

Third place went to John Beck of Mendota. Madison Yacht Club won 2,699 points on a second, eighth and first while Bradley Vogel of Lake Geneva placed fourth with 2,623 getting a first, eighth and third.

The fleet was split into two groups because it was so large — four accounting for six firsts altogether.

Cameron won the Cedar Lake Blue Water trophy for winning the first race. The ILYA alternate trophy went to Vogel.

The Calumet Yacht Club challenge trophy was awarded to William Swenson of Oconomowoc for winning the second race. The ILYA alternate cup went to Jim Stuart of Cedar Lake.

Chilton Schools Will Spend $12,289 to Equip Cafeteria

Purchase of Land for $1,800 Approved as Playground Site

CHILTON — The Board of Education Monday night authorized the expenditure of $12,289 for cafeteria equipment and approved purchase of land for playground site.

The cafeteria equipment, to be purchased from the A. J. Kiefer Co., Milwaukee, is needed to put the new cafeteria, located in the building addition basement, into operation for the approaching school term. A. W. Gordon, superintendent, said.

The equipment list resulted from a conference with cafeteria design engineers for the State Department of Public Instruction, Gordon said.

Included is a walk-in cooler, $2,027; large steam kettle, $1,134; three - compartment oven, $958; serving counter, $1,744; dishwasher, $2,362; booster heater for dish washer, $395; soiled-dish table, $565, and dish carts, $403.

Much equipment from the old kitchen will be used in the new facilities.

The Milwaukee firm will attempt to find a buyer for the present school dishwasher, which is valued at about $1,000. A total of $10,000 was budgeted for the cafeteria equipment this year.

The land to be purchased is owned by Mrs. William J. McHale, S. Madison Street. Gordon and Board President G. G. Bloomer said they negotiated for the purchase of a parcel 170 feet deep and 75 feet wide off the back lot of the McHale property for $1,800.

A survey of the land has been ordered and the transaction is expected to be completed this week.

Changes Approved
Three change - orders to the new addition contracts totaling $6,458 were approved. Of that amount $3,315 was required for underpinning boiler room walls, construction of a meter house and

Investigation Continues on Youth's Charge

Citizen Files Complaint Against Two Patrolmen

An investigation by Outagamie County's committee on traffic police is continuing on a complaint that two county patrolmen gave an Appleton taxi cab driver a ride home because he had been drinking. The incident occurred in Appleton July 25.

The complaint was brought to the attention of the committee last week by Albert Schwartz, 18, 1213 W. Commercial St. Schwartz' stepfather is Supv. Desmond Schade, chairman of the traffic committee.

Named in the complaint were patrolmen Edward Metko and William Block. Both were working on the night of July 24 and the early morning of July 25 when the alleged incident took place.

Schwartz appeared before the committee today to lodge his official complaint. He was questioned by County Corporation Counsel, A. W. Ponath.

Halts Cab
Schwartz said he saw a county patrol car driven by Block stop a cab near the intersection of Commercial and Mason streets.

Later, Metko's squad car arrived. Schwartz said. The cab driver got in Block's car and Metko drove the cab away. About five minutes later, Block returned with Metko and Metko got into his own patrol car and drove away. The incident occurred about 12:20 a.m., July 25.

Block testified that he had seen the cab driven by an old friend. He was "cutting across" the city of Appleton to patrol the county's southside. Block said he was on "floating" patrol and was not required to stay in any one location.

Was on Lookout
Block said he had been alerted to a City of Appleton bulletin which told patrol cars to be on the lookout for a cab driver who may be under the influence of alcohol.

Block found the cab driver to have been drinking, but was not drunk. He said he called Metko, who was patrolling near the city and asked assistance in taking the driver home.

Block said he did not notify the county patrol headquarters or the Appleton Police Department that he was taking the man home. He told the committee he thought "it was my decision to act in that manner."

He said the man definitely was not intoxicated "and that he had been in trouble before, and I wanted to help him."

Metko was called to testify and corroborated Block's story. He said he drove the cab home. Block said the cab company was not notified by the county patrol what had taken place.

Committee members plan further questioning of the two patrolmen "to clear up several items" before making any decision in the matter.

Schwade stepped down as chairman of the committee while the questioning was being conducted. Supv. Pat Heenan conducted the hearing.

Four Afflicted Trees Discovered Along Lake Winnebago; Survey In Chilton Finds City Clean

CHILTON — It took seven years for the Dutch elm disease to work its way north to Calumet County from Beloit, where it was first reported in the state in 1956, but the inevitable outbreak couldn't have hit a more vital area—the scenic Calumet County Park and Rockland Beach area.

Specimens taken from four trees in the area were diagnosed as "positive" by the State Department of Agriculture laboratory. The afflicted trees were discovered by County Agent Orrin Meyer who took wood samples and sent them to Madison recently. The laboratory findings were returned this week.

Meyer termed the situation "serious." He estimated that about 60 per cent of the trees in the area are elms and therefore are susceptible to the disease.

He urged property owners to be on the lookout for signs of the disease. Early symptoms are wilting, curling and yellowing and finally drying of the leaves and branches. Peeling the bark from sickly but living branches reveals brown discoloration on the inner bark and heart wood.

Must Be Removed
If these symptoms are found Meyer has asked that the finder cut a sample about two feet long and pencil thick to be sent to the state laboratory for a diagnosis. Infected elms must be removed within 30 days of confirmation, according to state statutes.

Meyer described the disease as a mold which grows in the inner bark of the tree. Liquids cannot flow freely because of the growth and the tree eventually dies. Meyer said.

The disease is spread by the elm bark beetle. To check the disease will require control of the beetle. DDT sprays are effective but spraying must be done before April 15 to prevent destruction of songbirds.

Can Be Curbed
Meyer doubts that the disease ever will be controlled but he feels it can be curbed to prevent "overnight" destruction of the elms. Areas where infected trees are found should be checked for the presence of dead, weakened or injured elms or elm wood in which the beetle may breed or winter. This wood should be burned.

Shares Senator
On the Senate side, the only major change from present redistricting is the provision that Waukesha County would have its own representative. The county now shares a senator with Jefferson County.

Day said the proposal he submitted would move one million more citizens into Assembly districts with less than a 10 per cent departure from what he described as the "population ideal."

The 1960 federal census set Wisconsin's population at 3,952,765, making 39,528 the ideal for each of the state's 100 assembly districts.

In the Senate realignment, 1½ million persons would be placed in districts with no more than a 10 per cent departure from the ideal, Day said. The ideal for the 33 Senate districts would be 119,780.

The Legislature's Republican majority handed the Democratic governor a reapportionment plan that would have held Milwaukee County's Assembly representation to 24 seats. He vetoed it.

The GOP then tried to pass a bill with 25 assemblymen for Milwaukee County. When that failed, the majority party adopted a resolution attempting to reapportion without the governor's signature.

Day told the high court the reapportionment resolution should be considered a "nullity." He told newsmen he believed the resolution would be included as day. All members 18 years and older are asked to attend the meeting.

$500,000 Store Plan Given Tentative Okay

Commission Members Say Project Would be Good Planning for Area

Tentative approval was given a half million dollar shopping center development on Appleton's northeast side Monday by the city plan commission.

Several residents appeared before the commission at city hall and objected to the developer's request to rezone from single family to commercial and light manufacturing about seven acres of property.

Proposed site of the shopping center is bounded on the east by Ballard Road, south by Pershing Street and on the west by Highland Court. Most of the objection came from residents on Pershing Street.

Two Petitions
Two petitions, one containing signatures of residents in the area approving the project and the other from those opposing it, were received.

The proposed site for the shopping center, which will include an Arlan's Department Store, a count center, supermarket and drugstore had been zoned residential before it was annexed to the city. However, planners have since indicated that a commercial district would make for good planning in that area.

Don DuChateau, representing the developers, said the building complex would measure 585 by 210 feet with the stores air conditioned. A paved parking area would also be provided.

They suggested the project be delayed and that developers put it on land which is now the Outagamie County airport. They contended that once the airport is abandoned it would be the logical place for commercial developments. They said the land could be purchased from the county.

The objectors said the shopping center would lower residential property values citing that homes ranged from $20,000 to $25,000 in the surrounding area.

Inspection of Calumet School Buses Planned

Highway Patrol To Check 35 Units Serving County

CHILTON — The state Highway Patrol inspection schedule for the 35 school buses serving the five Calumet County public schools has been announced by E. J. Flanagan, county superintendent of schools.

An inspection team will tour three inpection sites in the county Aug. 14, Flanagan said. The 12 buses serving New Holstein Public Schools will be inspected at 8:30 a.m. on that date at the high school grounds.

From New Holstein, the state patrol inspectors will visit the county sheriff's office here to inspect the 10 buses owned by the Chilton School District at 10:30 a.m. and the two operated by the Hemaure Bas Service, Stockbridge, at 11:30 a.m. The Hemaure buses serve Stockbridge schools.

The afternoon inspection site will be the Hilbert Public School. The Hilbert District's four units are scheduled at 2 p.m. At 2:30 p.m. two buses formerly operated by the Forest Junction District, now a part of the Brillion School System, will be inspected. Scheduled for inspection at 3 p.m. are three buses owned by Koehn Electric Co., Brillion, one owned by D. Sommers and one owned by John and Henry Horn, both of Brillion. The latter five units are privately owned but serve the Brillion district.

Lewis V. Versnik, commander of the state patrol's district No. 3, announced the inspection plan. He also urged that any bus operators not listed in the schedule bring their vehicles to the inspection site nearest to them.

Chilton Council To Discuss New Traffic Lights

Well Development, Sewage Treatment Also on Agenda

CHILTON — Traffic signals, well development and sewage treatment will confront the city's aldermen at tonight's city council session.

At the last council meeting it was announced that the city now has the right to install automatic traffic signals at the busy Main-Madison intersection. The authorization from the state Highway Commission resulted from a traffic survey May 28 that showed more than 8,000 vehicles crossing the intersection during an 8-hour period.

The council withheld final action on a proposal to install the signals. The issue is slated for the meeting tonight.

Since the last council meeting well drillers struck water on the test hole site at Douglas and Webster streets. A report on the water supply and decisions on testing procedures are expected to be made.

A sewage lagoon for the city remains a possibility to replace the present treatment system. The existing plant is in need of remodeling and enlarging. Several aldermen visited Spooner last week to inspect an operating sewage lagoon. A report on the inspection trip is also expected at the meeting, according to clerk Arthur Pohland.

Microwave System Begun For Appleton, Green Bay

Wisconsin Telephone Company Starts $414,000 Construction

A new microwave system between Appleton and Green Bay, to cost $414,000, was started Monday by the Wisconsin Telephone Company.

The system, to be completed at the end of this year, will be part of a microwave network that will link Milwaukee, Appleton, Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay, according to R. C. Van Sistine, manager of the Appleton district office.

Long distance telephone service between Appleton and Green Bay is now accomplished by underground cable, Van Sistine said. When the microwave system between the two cities is completed, an ultimate of 600 simultaneous telephone calls will be added to the company's present capacity of 421 calls between the two points.

Erection of a 280-foot tower was started today in the Town of Osborn, about 15 miles west of Green Bay and eight miles north of Appleton. Additional antennae will be placed on the roofs of the Appleton and Green Bay telephone offices.

"Microwave signals travel in a straight line," Van Sistine explained. "The antennae, which both send and receive signals, must be aimed on a 'line of sight' basis between the relay stations. To be effective, these relay points must be no more than about 18 miles apart. That is the reason that we can not have a direct path covering the 30 miles between Appleton and Green Bay," he said.

High-Frequency Waves
"Super high - frequency radio waves," Van Sistine continued, "are beamed from station to station by huge antennae mounted atop towers of high buildings. As signals are received by one antenna, they are sent to complex electronic equipment.

"This equipment, in turn, amplifies the incoming signals more than one million times, then sends them to the transmitting antenna which beams them on their way to the next station in the chain. When the proper destination is reached, the telephone message is relayed through regular cable and equipment."

Friend Shoots Appleton Man In Accident

Kenneth Jorstad Being Treated for Rifle Shot Wound

Kenneth D. Jorstad, 20, 419 E. Harding St., is being treated for a gun shot wound he received accidentally while visiting at a friend's home late Monday night. Appleton police detectives said that Donald Welton, 23, 524 E. McKinley St., admitted shooting Jorstad with a .22 caliber rifle when the rifle discharged while he walked upstairs from a basement recreation room. He is listed in serious condition.

Welton told police Jorstad, seated at a table behind him, called to Welton as he climbed the stairs with the rifle cocked and a shell in the chamber, Welton said. He was going outdoors to shoot a rabbit.

Hit Railing
Welton turned when his friend called and the rifle barrel hit a stair railing and discharged. The shell hit Jorstad in the right shoulder, entering through the back of the shoulder.

Welton said he and Jorstad had been drinking beer in the recreation room when they decided to fire the rifle. Welton fired the weapon three times into an overstuffed chair. Jorstad fired the weapon once before Welton decided to shoot a rabbit in the backyard.

The incident was the second accidental shooting reported in the area in three days. Saturday, Seymour Police Chief Bernard Plumb fired a blank pistol and injured Richard Kuchne of Seymour.

Detectives questioned Welton late Tuesday and asked him to reenact the shooting and the incidents which led up to the shooting. No charges have been filed, police said.

Lawyer Praised For Defense

Former Appleton Man Won Freedom In Appeal Court

The U.S. circuit court of appeals in Chicago has praised a Milwaukee lawyer for his defense without fee of a former Appleton man which won a reversal of a five-year prison sentence.

The court had appointed Irvin B. Charne, Milwaukee attorney, to represent Roy W. John, 47, formerly of Appleton, a former government inspector for army purchases. John moved to Green Bay in June, 1962.

A jury found John guilty on Dec. 22, 1961, of four counts of a federal indictment charging him with depositing obscene material in a mailbox. John was sentenced to a five-year prison term on one count and sentence was deferred on the other three pending a report from the federal bureau of prisons.

Had No Money
John appealed the conviction but had no money to employ a lawyer. The appellate court named Charne to represent him.

In making his defense of the case, Charne argued there was no obscene material deposited in the mailbox, specified in the indictment, and said the government had relied on circumstantial evidence.

He also said the government improperly bolstered its case by naming John, the jury corroborated and involved in the indictment which suggested the defendant was the type of person who would deposit mail such as that which was specified in the indictment.

The judge, the court observed, was not to be misled by the government's argument that John was a "bad" person and that he was a "bad" person.

Delay Widening of Memorial-Prospect Street-Sanitation Committee To Look for Federal, State Aids
Postponement of the Memorial Drive and Prospect Avenue intersection-widening project was advocated Monday by the common council's street-sanitation committee.

The delay is being recommended with hopes that Appleton may obtain state and federal assistance for the work which will cost close to $15,000.

Widening of the intersection was approved recently by the common council after several months of controversy involving Front Street, which intersects with Memorial Drive.

The committee's recommendation to delay the street widening will be up for consideration by the council Wednesday night.

Committee members felt the city should not pay the entire cost when aids might be available either next year or in 1965.

A change in the traffic signal system at the busy intersection will proceed as scheduled, according to the committee. That phase of the project will cost an estimated $3,400.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues raised the question as to whether the city wanted to proceed with the street widening and pay to the whole thing, or

Ribicoff Says Kennedy Backs Restricted Aid To Parochial Schools
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said today the Kennedy administration supports restricted federal aid to church-related schools.

Ribicoff cited in a prepared Senate speech a July 3 letter from Francis Keppel, commissioner of education, that it is his view there should be "federal financial assistance to private education at all levels, using such means as are generally agreed to be constitutional."

There is a general misunderstanding, Ribicoff said, that President Kennedy opposed aid to parochial schools as unconstitutional. But he said what Kennedy opposes is across-the-board aid and not assistance given to such projects as the building of a chemistry laboratory.

Hall, Stephenson Hall also is being remodeled.

Youngchild Hall is being erected by Hollman Construction Co. and will have 163 rooms. The building, to be of masonry construction, will be 224 by 102 feet and 42 feet high, with 75,000 square feet of floor space.

Permits also were issued in July for the new $425,000 St. Bernadette elementary school and the $400,000 H. C. Prange Co. parking structure.

Two office buildings were started at a cost of $41,000, a $72,000 medical building has gotten underway, and a permit was issued for a $49,000 apartment project.

A total of 107 building permits were issued by Magnette.

In July, 1962, the building inspector's office authorized 109 permits for $356,517 worth of new construction in the community.

One of the major construction projects launched in the city in 1962 — the $1.3 million addition to the municipal sewage disposal plant — will be completed sometime next month.

The city's $500,000 East Ramp parking structure, started this spring, is expected to be finished about Nov. 1.

Getting August activity underway with a flying start was the issuance of two building permits to St. Bernadette parish. One was for a $110,000 rectory, and the other a $100,000, 35-room convent for the nuns who will staff the new school building.

The Wall Must Go

Although Premier Khrushchev rather surprisingly did not tie them together, he has shown his eagerness for a non-aggression pact between East and West to follow the nuclear test ban treaty if it is approved by the United States Senate.

Averell Harriman, Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs, who negotiated the test ban treaty in Moscow, reports that he does not know why Khrushchev wants the non-aggression pact. However, he thinks the Russian premier is anxious to stabilize the situations in Eastern Europe and particularly in Berlin and East Germany.

Undoubtedly Khrushchev also wants the treaty as a further boost to his own prestige as some sort of a peace-maker since he has avowed peaceful co-existence and alienated the Red Chinese. Moreover, he must be quite well aware that Eastern Europe is a continual trouble spot. By tradition and history, many of the peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and even East Germany are explosive. If Khrushchev ever has nightmares they must be about another Budapest because the West might even be persuaded to interfere.

Non-aggression pacts are not worth very much as far as guaranteeing peace is concerned. They may serve to reduce tensions as President Kennedy says the nuclear test ban treaty will. But they also make for a false sense of security which is a dangerous thing indeed when dealing with such a practicing treaty breaker as the Soviet Union.

Since the main risk in a non-aggression pact would be for the West, we should demand some serious and meaningful concessions from Russia. Pledges are of no value. But an agreement to take down the Berlin Wall would be a concrete item for negotiation.

Moreover, if Khrushchev really is concerned about stability in Eastern Europe, he shouldn't throw the idea out the window immediately. The Wall has increased animosity in Berlin. It is so obviously a walling in of East Germans that it may be a real psychological handicap even to the Reds.

Nor should the removal of the Wall be necessarily a loss of face for the Soviet Union. Khrushchev has shown no great confidence in Walter Ulbricht, the unhappy puppet leader in East Germany. He practically ignored Ulbricht on his recent visit to Berlin. It should be easy enough to blame the construction of the Wall upon Ulbricht and get rid of both of them at the same time.

Facelifting Looks Good

The Appleton City Hall parking lot has received a long overdue facelifting and it looks good.

Although not a major municipal improvement, the project has done much to eliminate an eyesore that existed near the busy downtown district.

Actually, the tearing down of the old fence at the south end of the lot and replacing it with a concrete curb was an example of city-private industry cooperation. The Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. agreed to pay part of the cost because the parking lot of its new service center adjoins the city facility. The area around the firm's service center is also beautifully landscaped, giving the business district more attractive "green spots."

And it's good news to hear the City Fathers are continuing their policy of landscaping municipal areas wherever possible. Some green shrubs will be planted at the Appleton Street entrance to the City Hall parking lot.

City officials and the power company are to be commended for their downtown beautification efforts.

Restrictions on Foreign Aid

Over the protests of the Administration, the House Foreign Affairs Committee has put a restriction on any further economic or military aid to Indonesia. Aid may be extended only if the President makes a public finding that it is vital to United States security interests.

The amendment to the foreign aid bill was instigated by Republicans but drew some support from Democrats on the committee. Those responsible cited President Sukarno's recent display of military might in his attempt to prevent the activation of the Federation of Malaysia and threatening gestures against other neighboring areas like Dutch New Guinea. They were also concerned over increasing Communist influence in the Indonesian government.

The Administration opposed the restriction by arguing that it would offend the Indonesians and drive them into closer association with Russia.

This is one of the basic problems in administering foreign aid. Recipient nations frequently argue that our assistance does us no good in a public relations sense if we put any strings on our dollars. Or the State Department says that we must extend further aid so as not to make such and such a nation angry.

But these arguments ignore the basic purpose of economic aid, which is to preserve independent nations from internal take-over by Communism, and of military aid, which is to bolster such nation's defenses against Communism. And since the tax dollars we can send abroad for this purpose are subject to some limitations, Congress certainly is right in adding restrictions which serve the basic purpose.

Aid to Indonesia under present circumstances would seem to serve President Sukarno's purposes more than those of the United States.

U.S. Good Will in Mexico

While the United States has been having some difficulties of late in its relations with our good neighbor to the north, Canada, it is encouraging to read reports that there is a new glow of good feeling in Mexico toward the United States. It is a result of the settlement of a long-standing border dispute in which Mexico has been given 630 acres of land in the city of El Paso, Texas, in exchange for 193 acres of Mexican land north of the Rio Grande River.

On the surface it may sound like the United States got the worst of the deal. But actually it works out well both ways. The land acquired by the U. S. known as Cordova Island, will make it easier for El Paso to continue its eastward expansion. And the deal will make it possible for the Mexican city of Juarez to expand northward.

A new channel is being dug for the Rio Grande River which will delineate the new border. About 3,500 U. S. families, mostly of Mexican descent, will be resettled from the territory given to Mexico.

But the important thing is the lift it has given U. S.-Mexican relations. The Mexicans not only appreciate the fact that they came out 437 acres to the good in the trade, but are particularly proud because they were treated as sovereign equals in the negotiations. It has won the United States considerable respect not only in Mexico but throughout Latin America.

The dispute has been an emotional issue in Mexico for almost a century. The response to the settlement is also emotional.

Froehlich Explains His Voting Against Tax-Budget Measure

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The 1963 Wisconsin legislature has just concluded the main part of its regular session. During the past weekend I have been asked many times how I voted on the recently passed compromise budget - tax bill and on the omnibus pay raise bill.

Would you please allow me to inform your readers and my constituents that I opposed and voted against both bills.

I did so because I could not support a spending program that broke all records, the highest individual income taxes ever imposed on Wisconsin citizens, the largest increase in executive budget in history, more selective sales taxes, higher excise taxes, the big salary boosts for administrative department heads, a 50 percent increase in legislative salaries, record salary increases for state constitutional officers, including a $5,000 salary increase for the governor, and a little something for everyone except the already overburdened taxpayer.

The tax bill was stop-gap legislation at its worst. The basic problem of tax revision and re-alignment of state spending policies still remains to be solved.

The new tax law is an administrative monstrosity. It is going to cost a substantial amount for the state to collect these new taxes and it is going to cost our merchants many hours of headaches and many additional dollars to administer in their business.

How can anyone justify charging the widow, the blind or the lame who earn $60, 700 or $80 dollars a year $2 to file an income tax return even though no tax is due and to use this money to raise professional salaries 13 percent or legislative salaries 50 percent or to raise the governor's salary $5,000 a year? I have yet to hear the justification.

In six short years the executive budget has doubled. If the present budget were to double again in the next six years taxes will have outgrown the ability of the taxpayers to pay the bill. We would have also priced ourselves out of competition with other states for new business and industry. We would be facing economic death.

In my campaign for the assembly last fall, I pledged myself to oppose the selective sales tax and legislative pay raises, and to support tax reform and a sane level of spending. My vote reflects those promises.

Swimming Coach Defends Value of Indoor Pools

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I read in the Tuesday, July 30th paper your editorial in regard to taxes and swimming pools. Your article prompted me to reply since I feel, after more than twenty years of teaching and coaching swimming, that people should also be aware of the other side of the problem.

First of all, I am not an advocate of higher taxes, since I am a home owner and head of a family of six. I do feel we are over-taxed and would be happy to see something done about it, however, if as your article implied, indoor swimming pools are an unnecessary part of a tax supported public service program, then maybe we should consider the other services which are also offered as a public service such as the city athletic fields, recreation departments, new and better roads, garbage and rubbish collection, to mention just a few.

In my opinion these tax supported public services are necessary and with these, I strongly feel indoor swimming pools are just as necessary if only to prevent or reduce the many water accidents that occur each summer - when we have the greatest number of boaters, fishermen and swimmers using our many lakes, rivers and pools. I don't really believe a 50 mile hike will ever prevent a water accident, nor does it have the appeal to the majority of the people that swimming, boating and fishing does.

Today, with our ever-increasing population, more leisure time, better means of transportation (on tax supported highways) and increased day-light hours, the use of our natural resources will be on the increase as will our water accidents. To prevent drownings and the like, teaching swimming for just 2 1/2 to 3 months a year in our outdoor pools will not be an answer to the problem. I sincerely believe the only answer is more pools and pools that can be used the year around.

I do not feel that I am being overly biased when I state as a fact, "Competitive swimming on the high school level is sadly neglected in Wisconsin," since I also coach cross-country, football and track and would also defend these sports if they were being neglected. Competitive swimming is a sport where both boys and girls of all ages and sizes can be successful and at the same time greatly develop their bodies.

I do not have the answer as to what should be done about the ever increasing tax burden, however I would hate to see this as a continuing reason for not having pools in our schools.

Wisconsin Report

Legislature Plainly Nervous as It Voted Itself Pay Increases

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The legislature was plainly nervous when by comparatively narrow vote margins it rushed through a substantial pay and expense account for legislative service in the closing hours of the regular legislative session.

Wyngaard

The matter was disposed of with a minimum of discussion, almost as if there was a gentleman's agreement to attract as little notice as possible. Hopefully the sponsors wrapped up their own salary and expense proposals in a bundle of pay boosts for other officials, including department heads and judges, knowing that the pressure for the long delayed salary adjustments of the latter would pick up some support for the whole package. There was not even a pretense of a public hearing on the question, in a violation of the spirit if not the letter of the rules of operations in the lawmaking process. In spite of such careful management, however, the pay raise vote was by an uncomfortably narrow margin. Very nearly as many legislators voted against the idea as voted for it.

new salary of $450 a month the year around, plus $15 a day for time spent on duty in Madison, plus the special geographical expense account differential to acknowledge the travel and communication problems of the men from the larger and sparsely settled districts, is a comparatively generous arrangement. When this reporter started these dispatches the legislative pay was $100 a month, without expense reimbursement. Even allowing for the fact that legislative work is more demanding than day than it used to be, and that sessions today tend to be of longer duration, this rate of remuneration compares favorably with other local political offices available to these average men. Assuming that future sessions last about eight months, a two year term assemblyman can earn at the rate of $1,300 a month. Even if there is a generous estimate of an additional month of work equivalent in tips to Madison for constituents and special committee work, he will be earning at a rate that will be substantially above his local mayor, his friend the county sheriff, and the others in his local political association.

It is fair to mention also that the expense allowances are more liberal than is allowed other men and women engaged in state business away from home.

It is difficult for the reporter who is closely associated with the legislature and its members to render a judgment on such matters. The amount of money involved is minute, against the enormous total state government expenditure. If there is a chance of attracting good men with higher salaries, it is probably worth taking, or if there is a chance that good men are now being deprived of legislative service opportunity, it is worth avoiding it.

Yet there tugs at the sleeve the idea that the issue of political service compensation should not be resolved so impulsively, that the question ought to involve comparative practices in other states, and some comparison of time and performance requirements with other state officials such as administrative agency heads.

ISSUE?

This incident is bound to excite some controversy and criticism, but like the record earlier on the conglomerate new tax program, it will not lend itself to partisan exploitation. This was another bipartisan act.

There was somewhat more enthusiasm for higher pay among Democrats than among Republicans, as the roll calls showed, but that is probably explained that there are more Republicans of mature and older years to whom the financial pinch of legislative service is not as severe.

It may be assumed that the governor will approve the salary enactment, since he had originally recommended it in his message to the legislature on financial affairs and included it again in his first compromise tax and budget proposal.

Boys in Need of Way To Prove Manhood

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Writing about the young people riding around their white convertible, as I did recently, reminded me of another incident on the eve of the Fourth of July holiday.

Harris

It was 1:30 in the morning, and I was parked in my car near the main intersection of the little town in which I spend my summers. I was waiting for a passenger bus to arrive on an out-of-town bus.

During the half-hour I sat there, dozens of automobiles whizzed by me. Almost all of them were filled with teen-age boys, circling the town noisily, cutting corners sharply, and pretending to themselves that they were having a wild time.

It called to mind what an American anthropologist said recently about the "rites of passage." In older times, young men were given opportunities to prove their manhood through courage or skill by performing certain difficult rituals that the elders of the tribe had prepared for them. If they "passed," they were declared to be men.

We have no such "rites of passage" in our modern industrial society, and so the automobile has become in its own pathetic way, the symbol of the rites of passage. The boys who zip around the town, honking, screaming and rubber-burning, are in a stupor and unsatisfied way, trying to demonstrate their manhood.

As the anthropologist remarked, a good deal of what passes for "delinquency" in contemporary life is an ineffectual effort to create some rites of passage by the boys themselves. Society sets no tasks for them, so they try to make their own standards of virility.

But this does not, and cannot, gratify them in any deep, lasting and conformal way. It does not receive the approval of the "tribe," and, more important, it actually proves nothing—for any idiot can drive a car with reckless abandon. In trying to prove their manhood in this false way, they actually become more juvenile than ever in the eyes of society.

The puberty rites and the rites of passage that obtained in less sophisticated societies served a very real purpose, both socially and psychologically. The boys had something to look forward to, and the test was actually meaningful for it fostered bravery and courage and endurance to quality. Most of a "boy's" life is bound to the manhood of the tribe.

Boys' delinquency, in various forms, is spreading throughout the civilized world—even in countries which had no such phenomenon until the present generation. There is a vast resentment and rebellion against the canons of the adult world, and the teen-ager forms a sub-culture that is often threatening to the community and to the state of the nation.

We can not ignore this problem, and we must find a way to deal with it. We must find a way to give the teen-ager a sense of purpose and direction, a way to give him a sense of responsibility and a way to give him a sense of manhood.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

JFK gave his civil rights program a boost by popularizing the phrase "Let's move." Now the Kennedys will be out on the street picketing Dr. Galt.

A House committee cuts five and six to $4 billion. We're saving one and there's more that we can do. We'll be able to make new enemies for practically nothing.

The first Kennedy term is called the New Frontier. They've already got the name for the second term. Old Front—New Tears.
